

DXdao Discord Q3 REP Boost Guide

- Congratulations on reaching your respective participation level on the DXdao Discord!
- A new signal proposal has passed indicating that anyone listed on the O3 Discord REP Boost proposal is welcome to request their allocation of REP! Although entitled to mainnet REP, we highly advise requesting on xDai chain for the low associated fees.
- Reputation (REP) holders govern DXdao. REP is non-transferable, so use an Ethereum address that you will have access to in the future.
- Discord REP boosts are allocated quarterly and weighted by your participation level. This can range from 0.01% to 0.06% REP. In order to receive it, you must submit a proposal to DXdao. A step-by-step guide to the proposal process on xDai is below.

What you'll need:

- A wallet address, preferably with the same address on mainnet and xDai.
  - Metamask has this functionality.
- A small amount of xDAI to submit your proposal
  - Feel free to contact Keenan, or any other Community Support, for some xDai.
     Members in the DXdao Discord channels are willing as well! Send a message in #CommunitySupport.
- That's all! Let's get started.

Step 1: Go to Alchemy, DXdao's voting interface, and click 'Plugins'.

Note: DXdao is in a slow transition phase to its own governance interface "DXvote". For the Q4 Discord REP boosts, the community will be guided through its use and even be prompted to use different proposal templates. Until then it is still recommended to move through the Alchemy interface as described in this guide. Step 2: Click on the 'Funding and Voting Power' scheme.
