Startup Guide Summit: tackling global challenges with innovation

The Startup Guide Summit will happen on November 13th at Casa do Impacto, as part of the Shaping the World Festival, the ultimate educational, business and inspiration platform for the pan-European social innovation community.

The Startup Guide Summit is an innovation event aiming to solve the world's biggest challenges through innovation. This summit brings together startups, investors, public sector representatives, community builders, and key stakeholders from 60 startup ecosystems. The goal of the Summit is to foster exchange and collaboration among these diverse stakeholders, creating a platform that encourages the exchange of ideas and cultivates meaningful partnerships capable of driving real change.

The event is a full-day summit with a filled agenda, followed by a networking dinner, hosted at Casa do Impacto. The summit features a Pitch Competition from 11 AM on, as a result of the partnership between Impact Shakers, a global impact ecosystem player on a mission to tackle complex societal challenges through inclusive entrepreneurship, and Startup Guide, a leading publisher of guidebooks and digital content for over 60 international startup ecosystems, connecting local solutions with global challenges. This competition will be focused on European ClimateTech & InclusionTech solutions with diverse founding teams who registered to get the chance to win €10K investment from the Impact Shakers Microfund.

The summit will also feature several breakout sessions, namely on the subjects "Ecosystem Building in Crises: From Emergency Response to Stakeholder Engagement", "Urban Innovation: How to Bridge the Gap Between City Challenges and Innovative Solutions?" and "Collaborative Ecosystems: How to build collaborative ecosystems for Impact-Driven Innovation". Confirmed speakers include Bayo Akomolafe, international speaker and founder of The Emergence Network, Carlos Alvarez Pereira, Secretary General of The Club of Rome, Erinch Sahan, Business & Enterprise Lead Doughnut Economics Action Lab (DEAL), Fernando Jardim, President of The Board of Directors of 351 Portuguese Startup Community, and Inês Sequeira, CEO of Rede Capital Social.

Sissel Hansen, Founder and CEO of Startup Guide, states that "this is a unique opportunity to gather world leaders in innovation, sustainability, tech and development sectors, to bring them to the same table and enable them to collectively think of solutions to today's real-world problems, creating a path to solve the biggest local and global issues".

This event is part of a 3-day and night program titled Shaping the World Festival. This initiative brings together the network and wider audiences to explore the spectrum of activity taking place across European social innovation ecosystems with a focus on socially responsible ideation, via an exhibition of findings, conferences, screenings, showcases, masterclasses, workshops and entertainment. It also features several other events, from November 11th to 13th, including the Strategic Philanthropy, on November 11th at 3 PM, and the Redbridge Lisbon Shaping the World edition, on November 12th at 7 PM.
