

In order to self-certify, a CLP or CDL holder must first determine if he or she will operate a CMV in interstate or intrastate commerce. If a CLP or CDL holder operates in both intrastate commerce and interstate commerce, he or she must choose interstate commerce.

Interstate Commerce: When a driver operates a CMV in trade, traffic, or transportation:

- From one State to another State or a foreign country
- Between two places within a State, but during part of the trip the CMV crosses into another State or foreign country
- Between two places within a State, but the cargo is part of a trip that began or will end in another State or foreign country.

Intrastate Commerce: When a driver operates a CMV and does not meet any of the descriptions for interstate commerce

Once a driver determines if he or she will operate in interstate commerce or intrastate commerce, he or she must decide whether or not he or she operates (or expects to operate) in a non-excepted or excepted status. This decision will determine which of the four types of commerce the driver must self-certify.

Non-Excepted Interstate Commerce	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Driver drives interstate or intrastate commerce and holds a Commercial Driver License (This includes drivers that are not currently operating a Commercial Motor Vehicle);• Must have a valid DOT card• Driver must be at least 21 years old Note: Selecting this category gives you the opportunity to operate in any type of commerce without driving type restrictions. A valid DOT certificate is required to maintain this category. Both your DOT expiration and the date you certified to this type of operation will show on a CDL Motor Vehicle Report (MVR)
Excepted Interstate Commerce	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Driver currently drives interstate only under excepted transportation or operations as described in 49 CFR §§ 390.3 (f), 391.2, 391.68, and 398.3:<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. Transportation of school children and/or school staff between home and school2. Transportation performed by a Federal, State, or local government employee3. Occasional transportation of personal property by individuals not for compensation and not in the furtherance of a commercial enterprise4. Transportation of human corpses or sick and injured individuals5. Operation of fire trucks and rescue vehicles during emergency and other related activities6. Operation of CMVs designed or used to transport between nine (9) and 15 passengers (including the driver), not for direct compensation, provided the vehicle does not otherwise meet the definition of a CMV.7. Operation of a CMV primarily for transportation of propane winter heating fuel when responding to an emergency condition requiring immediate response, such as damage to a propane gas system after a storm or flooding8. Operation of a CMV in response to a pipeline emergency condition requiring immediate response, such as a pipeline leak or rupture9. Operation of a farm vehicle that is not considered a combination vehicle (power unit and towed unit) and is used to transport10. agricultural products, farm machinery, or farm supplies (no placard-able hazardous materials) to and from a farm and within 150 air-miles of the farm11. Operation of a CMV in custom harvesting on a farm or to transport farm machinery and supplies used in the custom harvesting operation to and from a farm12. Transportation of custom harvested crops to storage or market13. Operation of a CMV by a beekeeper in the seasonal transportation of bees14. Private motor carrier of passengers for non-business purposes15. Transportation of migrant workers• Driver must be at least 21 years old Note: Selecting this category allows you to operate in both Interstate and Intrastate. However, it restricts your CDL to only operating under the Excepted activities listed in this section.

	This driving type doesn't require you to submit a DOT certificate to your licensing jurisdiction. If the company you work for requires you to obtain a DOT certificate, you may want to select "Non-Excepted Interstate" so your CDL is not restricted to only the driving activities listed here. Only the date you certified to this type of operation will show on a CDL Motor Vehicle Report (MVR). If you turn in a DOT certificate, the information WILL NOT show on the MVR until you certify to a different category.
Non-Excepted Intrastate Commerce	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Driver has a federally disqualifying medical condition; • Must be accompanied by a Utah Intrastate Waiver card; • The driver does not meet the guidelines to obtain a valid DOT Medical Card under 49 CFR part 391; <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ◦ Must obtain a state DOT certificate marked for accompanied by a waiver/exemption; ◦ Must complete any medical reports required by the Driver License Division; • Must obtain a K restriction on the license and may only drive intrastate commerce. Note: This category is only used when you have a federally disqualifying medical condition and have been approved or currently in the application process to obtain a State waiver. This driving type requires a DOT certificate marked for "State operation" with the "Accompanied by a _____ Waiver/exemption" restriction. Both your DOT expiration and the date you certified to this type of operation will show on a CDL Motor Vehicle Report (MVR). The Utah Intrastate K-Waiver must fall under the Utah Driver License Division functional ability guidelines.
