

Jelson & Friends Main Characters!

Jelson

Species: Slime

Gender: Male

Age: Around 15-17

Personality: Fun-loving, kind, enthusiastic, energetic. Very resourceful in tough situations. Also has a bit of a silly side.

Physical Appearance: Jelson's body is made of translucent green slime with bubbles visible inside. He has 2 big eyes, a big mouth, and white gloves on his hands. His eyebrows are simple lines.

Abilities: He's super flexible. His body can stretch as long as an entire park, and as tall as a high-rise. He also has the ability to morph into various shapes and forms, either to use for strength, or just to impress his friends. His substance can also change from solid to liquid, depending on the shape he's in.

Strength: Being practically indestructible. His slimy body is the toughest type of slime around!

Weaknesses: Literally freezing in cold temperatures and losing his shape and melting in hot temperatures.

Favorite Food: Bubblegum and pizza (especially the cheese).

Likes To... Play games, watch game shows, take his pet out for a walk.

Hobbies: Painting pictures, making crafts.

Relationships: Although they both have different tastes in climate, Jelson and Icespike make the bestest of friends. They occasionally go skiing together every once in a while. If Brickster ever needs a helping hand on his construction job, Jelson'll be there for Brickster to use him as a ladder or scaffolding. Jelson also gets a bit tired of Googly's wackiness sometimes. Jelson and King Rockford are like polar opposites. Jelson's the kind-hearted, fun-loving slime boy who wouldn't hurt a fly, and King Rockford's a mean-spirited bully who wants nothing but the worst for Jelson's friends.

Wishes to Become...let's be honest... Anything, really! It's all up to his imagination!

Friends: Icespike, Bricker, Googly

Enemies: King Rockford and his kids

Icespike

Species: Ice Dino

Gender: Male

Age: Same with Jelson, around 15-17

Personality: Cool, adventurous, outgoing. Likes to chill and have a good time. Oh, and he likes skiing.

Physical Appearance: Icespike's body is blue and sparkly with light-blue spikes and belly. He wears black sunglasses. His mouth has an overbite, with some teeth sticking out.

Abilities: Blowing icy breath from his mouth to freeze anything that's burning and needs to go out quicker. Or freezing any baddie who comes his way. Or just to show off! He and his friends have some really neat abilities.

Strength: Protecting himself with his icy shield whenever something REALLY bad happens.

Weakness: His freezing powers not working the way they should.

Favorite Food: Ice cream and popsicles.

Likes To... Go skiing in the mountains, try out daring tricks on his skateboard. He's very athletic.

Hobby: Carving ice sculptures.

Relationships: Like I mentioned above, despite their different tastes in climate, Icespike and Jelson make the best of friends. If Brickster ever gets to the point of having a meltdown, Icespike'll be there to cool him down (get it?). Icespike somehow finds Googly more entertaining than Jelson does. And just like everyone else... He wouldn't wanna mess with King Rockford!

Wishes to Become... The All-Star Ice-Skier!

Friends: Jelson, Brickster, Googly

Enemies: King Rockford and his kids

Brickster

Species: Construction Brick

Gender: Male

Age: Around 20-22

Personality: Strong, muscular, not the brightest sometimes, but he does a good job at what he does anyway. He works part-time as a construction worker. If he ever punches someone he knows isn't bad with his giant fists, he feels regretful and apologizes.

Physical Appearance: Bricker's body is red with lighter, orange-ish spots. His big, muscular arms are colored a lighter shade of red.

Abilities: His arms might be the strongest in the world! He can crush things down to the point where they're flat as a pancake. And he's got the most powerful punches anyone's ever seen. In many situations, his body can also act as a wrecking ball.

Strength: Being able to withstand bigger guys who try to break him.

Weakness: Losing energy.

Favorite Food: Fruits and vegetables. He especially loves spinach.

Likes To... Work out and build 'em muscles!

Hobby: Carving wooden bear statues (like the ones you see in mountainous areas).

Relationships: Brickster never has the space for a tall ladder in his tiny house. So he always asks for Jelson to help him out on that! Icespike and Brickster are pretty competitive at carving and sculpting statues. Brickster just can't get enough of Googly's jokes! In fact, Googly might be a closer friend to Brickster than he is to Jelson! Brickster wishes he could smash down King Rockford, but he's gotta understand the fact he's too small to crush anyone bigger than him.

And he hates him just the same as everyone else does.

Wishes to Become... World Fitness Champion!

Friends: Jelson, Icespike, Googly

Enemies: King Rockford and his kids

Googly

Species: Eyestalkian

Gender: Male

Age: Around 18-20

Personality: Comical, spooky, witty. He loves telling jokes and treats every day like it's Halloween (his favorite holiday). He thinks he's super brave and isn't afraid of anything, but there's times where he's a real scaredy cat!

Physical Appearance: Googly's body is colored with purple and orange stripes. His eye is colored light-yellow and is connected to a stalk in a zigzag shape. His mouth is shaped like a bun and is colored light-purple. He wears a black top hat with a red ribbon tied around it on his eye.

Abilities: Scaring off those who try to tell him he's not scary. He can be a real spook with that dangling eye of his!

Strength: His comedy routines, I guess. He puts everyone in stitches!

Weakness: Being scared by someone scarier than him!

Favorite Food: Any kind of candy in general. He looooooves Choco Bricks!

Likes To... Watch funny shows and write funnier jokes!

Hobby: Making costumes for Halloween.

Relationships: Jelson and Googly's relationship is kinda shaky. There's times when Googly just keeps on jibber-jabbering, even when Jelson tries to tell him to stop. Icespike and Brickster, on the other hand, absolutely love his jokes! King Rockford's kinda in the middle. There's some jokes he finds funny, and other ones he just absolutely hates!

Wishes to Become... King of Comedy!

Friends: Jelson, Icespike, Brickster

Enemies: King Rockford and his kids

Randy "King" Rockford

Species: Giant Rock

Gender: Male

Age: Around 34-36

Personality: Abrasive, mean, rowdy (not around his kids). So-called "king" of Rockford Island (he's more of a president), off the coast of Adamsburg. He likes to be a good dad to his many, many kids, but to Jelson and his friends? He just likes to be a big, nasty bully!

Physical Appearance: King Rockford's body is gray with crack marks all over it. He wears a yellow crown with red jewels on the peaks of it. His arms and legs float.

Abilities: His signature move, the Rollin' Rock, is guaranteed to tear his foes limb from nonexistent limb! (Thanks, Poco!)

Strength: Protecting himself and his kids from danger.

Weakness: No real weakness, other than the fact that he's too big to be destroyed.

Favorite Food: Stale bread and hard candy. He's got some really strong teeth!

Likes To... Reek havoc in any situation he encounters.

Hobby: Mining for gold (the island he lives on is really rich in gold for some reason).

Relationships: To Jelson, Icespike, Bricker, Googly, and everyone else in their friend groups, he's possibly the most hot-headed, mean-spirited being they've ever seen! He tends to get into fights very often.

Wishes to Become... #1 Dad of the Year ...and #1 Bully to the Adamsburgians!

Friends: TBD

Enemies: Jelson, Icespike, Brickster, Googly
