HOLDING Contemporary is pleased to present a special performance by Lu Yim, if the present form reveals the missing, with performer Gosif and other collaborators. This one-night-only event will begin at 6PM on Saturday, September 21 at VACATION Gallery on 24A Orchard Street, and is in conjunction with HOLDING Contemporary's current group exhibition CARRIAGE. Styling and Garment design by Anne Cousineau and other guests TBA.

if in the present form reveals the missing is an in-progress performance shaped to the outside time and the inside time of the occupied space. Utilizing the larynx, the limbs, and other technologies, the two configure a process of home-locating within their environment, attempting a series of both spoken and unstated hypotheticals.

the hypothetical of if Musk's Tesla and his dummy Starman were surrogates for us the hypothetical of before the dying that will the hypothetical of reversing time so we can step forward again but maybe slap it this time the hypothetical of make a ring with your thumb and forefinger so we can play with it the hypothetical of confusing her timescale with our own the hypothetical of whose mouth opens and how do they consume the hypothetical of remembering how to dance

Lu Yim is a performance maker thinking through work, working, pleasure, desire and demand. Their work is motivated by erotic states of fluidity and tension. Based in Portland, OR and Brooklyn, NY they are part of artist run groups Physical Education and Pidzn Club who create collaborative spaces and gatherings for artists. Yim holds an MFA in Sculpture from the Milton Avery School of Fine Arts at Bard College ('19). Recently they performed at Clouds Gathering, ICA London and earlier this year at Performance Space as part of Richard Kennedy's curation of their Octopus Series.
