Spot It: Bouldering Privacy Policy

Your privacy is very important to Spot It: Bouldering. Please take a moment to read through our Privacy Practices and let us know if you have any questions.

In order to use our iOS application, you will need to sign in with your email address. At the same time, you will need to supply a password as well. This information is used to identify yourself in our system and to allow access to our bouldering database. You are not required to enter in this information when requested, but, if you choose not to do so, we cannot guarantee that we will be able to supply you with our goods or services or reply to any requests or inquiries that you may have.

How We Will Use this Information

- The personal information that you enter allows us to manage who is using our application and connecting to our servers. Without logging in, users won't be able to use our application.
- We may also use your information for internal purposes such as data analysis and research in order to help improve the application and your overall experience using our products and/or services.
- From time to time, we might use your personal information to send out updates and news about exciting things that are happening to improve our application.

Access To Your Personal Information

You can help ensure that your personal information and login details are accurate and up-to-date by opening our application and updating your information at any time. You are able to change, update, or delete your account at any time from the app.

Location-Based Services

To provide location-based services in your Spot It: Bouldering application, we may collect, use, and share precise location data, including the real-time geographic location of your device. Unless you provide consent, this location data is collected anonymously in a form that does not personally identify you and is used by Spot It: Bouldering to provide and improve location-based products and services.

Privacy Questions

If you have any questions and/or concerns about Spot It: Bouldering's Privacy Policy, please contact us at SpotItBouldering@gmail.com. If any such questions arise, we hope to answer them as quickly as possible. We hope you enjoy our application and look forward to your feedback.
