

We open on Tooru walking up to a house surrounded by men in military equipment and yellow tape

Tooru ducks under the yellow tape nonchalantly and one of the guards sees this

Guard: HEY! This place is off-limits to the public, I'm going to have to ask you to leave

Tooru: Would you say that you are pursuing me?

Guard: Well if you won't leave willingly then yes

The guard then draws his pistol and takes a step toward Tooru however he trips and falls in such a way that his gun accidentally goes off killing him with a bullet through his head but Tooru doesn't even turn around to see the corpse, just continuing to walk inside

It then cuts to Tooru inside the building with a few dead scientists around the place having died in unfortunate accidents, Tooru then notices a file labeled "Top Secret, DO NOT OPEN" so Tooru picks up the envelope and opens it only to see a normal photo of a mountain plain and nothing else

Tooru: This is what all this commotion was about?...

...What a joke

Tooru then throws the photo behind him before putting some headphones in his ears and playing his music

We then cut to a control room filled with scientists examining several control panels as another scientist walks in

Scientist 1: any updates on the specimen?

Scientist 2: no, movement sensors haven't detected any major changes in his position for 6 hours

Scientist 1: good, but if he even turns his head more than an inch I want to be the first to know

Scientist 2 you got it, boss

We cut in to see SCP-096 crying in a corner covering his face before he then stops crying and begins to stand up

We cut back to the control room

Scientist 2: uh boss, he's beginning to stand up

Scientist 1: what he then approaches the panel to see his subordinate was correct oh my god, EVERYONE! On standby

We then cut into 096's containment chamber for him to let out a guttural and animalistic shout of pure rage

Scientist 1: Motherfucker

the scientist then opens a case, presses the button that lay underneath and grabs a microphone that is not far away

Alarms start blaring as the Scientist begins saying

Scientist 1: everyone, SCP-096 has become agitated, please close your eyes and stay on the lookout for any other SCPs on the loose he then repeats this announcement a few more times

As the scientist is talking we then get a panning shot of the door of the containment cell as it then gets broken down and 096 comes roaring out

096 then begins running but as it's moving down the corridors for the exit there appears to be an old man with a cane wearing a bowler hat moving slowly down the hallway

096 happens to see the back of the old man, and as it does a ceiling tile falls and hits 096 on his head stunning him

Old Man: The flow of Calamity will always go against those in pursuit of me, give up your chase, the Old Man then turns his head slightly to reveal an almost mechanical head and you may go back to your cell safely-

SCP-096 then runs past the Old Man and continues his chase giving out another roar striking fear into the hearts of any who hear it

Old Man: Unfortunate, you could've stayed in your prison, safe but now, you will die like all of those who have come after me before

096 is seen running through the halls of the foundation, crashing into walls and running past scientists who are trying their hardest to keep their eyes closed however a door then explodes off of one of the cells letting SCP-939 out

939 then rushes towards 096 and biting off some of his flesh however 096 crushes the skull of 939 before getting back to the task at hand

096 continues his sprint as the foundation begins to meltdown and dozens of SCPs break out, some scientists while trying to flee other SCPs happen to look at 096 causing him to kill them without slowing down his sprint

One scientist while running around is carrying a briefcase however an explosion happens behind him which launches the briefcase out of his hands and briefcase just so happens to open in mid-air revealing SCP-035 flying towards 096 ready to possess him

However, 096 backhands the mask causing it to bounce off of a wall and onto a D-Class personnel's face possessing him but 096 continues his sprint

096 rounds a corner however the ceiling above him gives way as a giant Grand Piano falls on 096, however, this isn't any piano, this is SCP-4088, the living piano and it consumes 096 whole

However, 096 simply breaks out of the piano, leaving it as mere splinters on the ground

Unfortunately one of 4088's previous victims was transporting SCP-1015, and now this penny is currently stuck to 096

096 runs for a few seconds before WOU appears in a hallway

WOU: A calamity is coming...

Just then 096's skin begins to turn into pennies at a rate far faster than 1015 has ever gone before, undoubtedly aided by Calamity

096's skin and muscles have turned into pennies and fallen to the ground however the bones of 096 continue to move, perhaps even getting faster as he begins running at a wall at high speeds and just as his flesh fully heals he collides with the wall

096 then breaks through a wall leading to the onsite nuke which he runs past without a second thought

We then cut to a scientist standing by a button scared out of his mind as the alarms are blaring, just then SCP-035 still possessing the D-Class runs into the room and goes in to attack the scientist, the scientist tries to fight off the possessed D-Class but in his struggle, he accidentally presses the button which detonates the onsite nuke

The underground base then goes up in a mushroom cloud as Wonder of U looks on

WOU: truly a tragedy, if only you didn't decide to pursue me then this wouldn't have happened-

WOU is cut off when he hears screaming, he looks only to see a flaming skeleton sailing through the air

WOU: there's no way...

The skeleton then begins to regenerate its gray flesh until 096 is good as new

096 then repositions itself in midair before landing on the ground and using the momentum gained from the nuke to launch itself through the air and become faster

WOU: This pursuit is pointless, you will die long before you ever escape this country

096 is then seen running through many tropical trees before trampling a sign saying he is 20 miles away from Honolulu

096 continues his sprint however it takes him to an abandoned Saw Mill as he's running a machine whirls to life however it malfunctions and shoots off its circular saw and ricochets in between his legs tearing off some skin and muscles causing 096 to fall over

096 collapses, at the same time the saw begins bouncing around the sawmill causing a chain reaction that leads to a massive explosion shooting up scraps of wood and piercing all of 096's limbs pinning him to the ground. The Shy Guy lets out a scream of pain but Calamity doesn't care.

The ground then shakes before giving way and sinking, 096 begins lowering and he can't get out due to being pinned

096 would struggle but he couldn't get free, WOU then appears in front of 096

WOU: it's almost ironic, you will die, suffocating like all the calamities you've run through up to now

As WOU says in this final speech, 096 would then be swallowed up by the ground alongside the rest for the Sawmill

WOU would then teleport to a better vantage point to watch the Sawmill sink however out of the corner of his eye he would see a hole being dug, with 096 exiting through it and with one big gasp of breath he would give a shout like none other, creating a horrifying noise that the entire island heard with everyone from beachgoers, to natives picking flowers, and even a distracted Manga Artist researching the island's beauty would turn their heads in worry over what they heard.

096 would then finish escaping the hole and continue sprinting until he reached a volcano that he would begin climbing

Once 096 finished climbing he would then jump over the volcano however it erupted launching 096 into the sky WOU would then look up to see 096 flying high

WOU: not even an abomination like you could come back from the deep reaches of space

096 would eventually exit the atmosphere however as he's flying up 096 would hit the International Space Station so 096 would prepare for the jump back onto Earth

A scientist would look through a window and see 096, they would spit out their drink before 096 would make his jump which destroyed the ISS but 096 didn't care

096 would then begin to reenter the planet as the atmospheric reenter would begin to burn their skin and reduce him to a skeleton

WOU, still in Hawaii would see a shooting star only to realize that it was 096, diving straight for Morioh

WOU: that's impossible, how did it know exactly where to jump in just a few seconds, is it intelligent? No matter, the Flow of Calamity is absolute WOU points his cane to where 096 is nobody can deny it

A large storm begins to appear where 096 is coming down, it's high winds thrash around 096 and throw off his descent causing him to fall into the ocean

The waters then begin to shift and form into a wave that 096 is caught up in, the wave proceeds to get bigger and bigger until it becomes a massive tsunami coming for the shores of Japan

WOU then teleports to the city that the tsunami is about to hit, WOU then notices a small white spec within the wave, and he looks closer to realize that it's 096, swimming within the wave like it's a day at the beach

WOU: What even are you?

The wave then crashes into the city leveling it but 096 merely runs out of the carnage and continues its sprint for Tooru

096 would then pass a sign saying that Morioh was a mere 10 miles away

He would then sprint by WOU standing hidden in the woods and the dark

WOU: You will never reach him, never...

Thunder is then heard before the rain begins to fall

... so long as Calamity continues to flow

We then cut to 096 running but then a hole appears in 096, then another, and another, with every raindrop taking out another chunk of skin but 096 doesn't slow down, helicopters can be heard in the background

096 continues running up a hill until he reaches the top and a blinding flash hits 096's face as two helicopters flash their lights in his face

Once the flash bang fades away, 096 is standing over Morioh, all of a sudden a dozen WOU clones appear in front of him, 096 undeterred lets out an animalistic screech, Tooru then hears this shout, he takes off his headphones and begins to run away

096 then gives a small sprint before jumping off the cliff and grabbing onto the Helicopter's bar however a giant explosion is seen shooting up rocks and sticks

We then see a POV shot of 096 where he is forced to adapt his sight to see everything before him, in a second we then see 096 calculate the correct path ahead with countless physics equations before roaring and swinging from every piece of debris before finally entering Morioh proper

Tooru is then seen running through the chaotic streets before an MTF Agent spots him

Agent: Sir, we need you to get to a safe locati-

The MTF Agent is stopped as a loud scream is heard, they both look over to see 096 closing in

Agent: OH SHIT!

096 then looks at the Agent and shouts before running up and murdering the Agent, WOU then appears next to Tooru

WOU: He's after you...

WOU then points to the jewelry store behind them

... go through there, I'll hold him off

Tooru does as he says and runs inside but 096, hot on his trail, follows him, Tooru then slides over a display in the center of the showroom before running through and to the back door but it doesn't open

096 tears up the store, throwing the center display table to the side however this hits a light switch which then causes a minor short circuit that eventually causes a small pipe under the floor to explode taking out 096's foot and he falls over

WOU then appears next to 096 and begins to monologue

WOU: The Flow of Calamity is absolute, no one can fight against it, not even you... you... you idiotic, disgraceful anomaly of a Creature! Can you even think? Can you even hear me? I've been trying to explain the futility of what you've been doing but no WOU hits 096 with its cane you just had to ignore it all...

WOU hits him again, 096 tries to lift its arm to reach toward Tooru but WOU pushes his cane down and through 096's hand

... Do me a favor, and when this next calamity hits, die quickly

Tooru finally gets the door open and runs outside however an MTF Agent is outside and once he sees Tooru he grabs his walkie-talkie and says something

Agent: SCP-096-01 has been identified, he's standing right in front of me

All of a sudden a helicopter in the sky explodes and begins circling down and crashing into the jewelry store causing a massive explosion that knocks back Tooru

Tooru wakes up sitting in a pool of his blood and a piece of rebar is lodged in his stomach, he then stands up and looks at the store which is now in ruins

Tooru then begins to stand up but as he does so the Walkie-talkie comes to life

Walkie-talkie: Agents, SCP-096-01 has been identified the rubble of the building begins to move stay clear of this area and wait until 096 is done with him the skeleton of 096 then bursts through the rubble and screams to the sky then circle in once he's docile again

Tooru: What the hell are you? Is there even a calamity on this planet that can kill you?

096 then regenerates quickly before getting out of the rubble and rushing at Tooru

We then cut to a first-person shot of Tooru looking at 096, then we cut to a first-person shot of 096 looking at Tooru, we then cut back to Tooru, then 096, switching shots rapidly until eventually 096 sees his own reflection in Tooru's eyes

096 then freezes in place staring at this reflection before getting mad, really angry, 096 then gave a scream before taking its claw and ripping off his arm, it then ripped off part of its torso, gouged out an eye, breaking bones, and mutilating itself

WOU then appears next to Tooru

WOU: scoff, perhaps there wasn't a single calamity that could defeat you abomination, aside from yourself, a true calamity that doesn't care about good, evil, or itself

Just then a plane in the sky exploded, WOU held up his cane to keep Tooru up against the wall, and just then it started to rain acid which seeped into the bone marrow of 096

WOU: that plane was carrying acid, that means this abomination still aims to-

Just then 096 used the last of its strength to take a swipe at Tooru however the wall Tooru had his back to crumbled causing him to fall backward and dodge 096's strike but 096 was able to just barely able to leave a scratch on Tooru's cheek

Just then 096 stops moving as the acid finally stops 096's healing factor and the skeletal remains of 096 crumble to dust

Tooru finally breathes a sigh of relief but just then MTF Agents can be heard from outside

Agent #1: Holy shit, The Shy Guy is dead

Agent #2: 343 in Heaven... alright boys, 096-01 is in this building right now, encircle him and take him in alive, pursue him to the ends of the Earth if you must

Agent #1: Roger that sir, we won't let him get away

Tooru heard this and looked over calmly to see Wonder of U standing there calmly with his head down before lifting it up, ready to send new calamities to protect his master
