PERSONALITY

- ALIGNMENT: Chaotic Good
- PERSONALITY:
 - Talkative I Usually when he speaks to someone directly it means it has been a while since he's gotten actual company other than himself. Saying this, he usually finds so many interesting parts of land while on his lonesome and gathers so many things to talk about. It also means that he finds himself talking too much due to the fact he doesn't expect to be getting any responses back (for he does not respond back when he talks to himself).
 - Sneaky I As per already shown in character, Ilo oftentimes finds himself getting taken control of with interest; curiosity. Due to this, he usually follows after people or things without consent. Understanding this gets people made, if it is a person he follows, he subjects himself to staying mouse silent. Through this time of, he would probably be considered sneaky, or close enough to it.
 - Credulous I Due to the fact that he's alone half of the time, he doesn't have similar humor or understanding of it. He doesn't often know sarcastic tells, or a joke if it isn't plainly obvious (like it's raining cats and dogs) and/or is something he could see the opposite of. For example, if someone said "I don't understand why you are behind on all of this," He would respond "I'm not behind anything!". This could make for not only funny bits and a reveal to how dull Ilo is, but also complete misunderstanding!
