THRIFT STORES IN THE AREA

Plato's Closet: 14125 NE 20th St., Bellevue
Plato's Closet pays cash on the spot for gently used items that are in current style and in great condition. They buy styles for all seasons, all day, every day, with no appointment necessary. They provide a cool place to shop with good music, a fun atmosphere, great clothes and organization for ease of shopping. They offer a sustainable shopping experience by buying and selling gently used items that come straight from our communities. Plato's Closet is recognized as the nation's largest chain of teen and twenty something resale stores.

Habitat for Humanity ReStore: 13500 Bel-Red Rd, Bellevue
Visit them to find gently-used furniture, like-new appliances, building supplies, and so much more. All items are donated so prices can be low. All proceeds support the continued building and repairs of homes for low-income families in King County.

Jubilee Reach Thrift Store: 2301 148th Ave NE, Bellevue
The needs of families in Bellevue are evolving rapidly, and Jubilee REACH is committed to serving in a way that invites and incorporates feedback from the community we serve. All proceeds from the Thrift Store cycle back into our services to the community. As we offer quality goods and a hospitable shopping experience, we also provide jobs to restore lives, and we empower families in need to lead healthy lives with furniture and household essentials.

Goodwill: 15301 NE 24th St, Redmond
Seattle Goodwill, a mission-driven organization, works to address poverty and strengthen communities by preparing people for employment in the current and future marketplace. All kinds of goods from clothing to furniture, jewelry to holiday decorations are sold here! By donating to Goodwill, you are extending the life of household items and keeping them out of landfills. Last year, Goodwill kept 59.9 million pounds of materials out of landfills.

Value Village: 5530 East Lake Sammamish Parkway SE, Issaquah
Value Village accepts your donations on behalf of a local nonprofit, paying them for your stuff, helping them fund programs in your community. In Washington they partner with Big Brothers Big Sisters of Puget Sound and Northwest Center (owners of the big blue trucks) which serves children and adults with developmental disabilities. They are also champions of reuse.
