BRIEFING - OPORD - IMAGES

Freja: Okay, it seems like all of you are here, so let's begin. I am Sofia Freja, I'm an intel officer from the Strategic Information Service and I will be your company's intelligence liaison for this contract. If you haven't read your mission orders yet, the quick rundown is that our mission tonight is to make landfall in Sweden, gather our gear, and push further inland to secure our foothold in Skåne County.

OBJECTIVES
⊗	Capture enemy FOB [OBJ Rex]
⊗	Capture or Destroy radio tower [OBJ Mark]
⊗	Conduct SSE
⊗	Secure and hold AO
⊗	[OPTIONAL] Capture logistic hub in Point Allen
⊗	[OPTIONAL] Perform recon on Point Nolan

You will be taking off from our staging point here in Denmark at 2300 hours, and at 0100 we'll be landing on the southern coast of Skåne. After that, at 0415, we'll begin our push into Nalzovske Hory, where we must capture the local FOB to establish a strong foothold in the region.

The FOB and the airfield its guarding are heavily defended, and the town to the east of the airfield is filled with Swedish forces that will likely respond to our attack. Nearby, there's also a radio tower—marked as Objective Mark. It is imperative that we deny the enemy use of this communications array, either by destroying it or capturing it. Doing so will prevent them from calling in heavier QRF to stop us. I recommend capturing it, as having it under our control will significantly aid further operations in the region. Additionally, you're tasked with intel gathering in the AO. It's likely the enemy will have valuable intel stored in the FOB, which you must secure. However, more intel is likely scattered throughout the area, so keep your eyes open for any laptops or fancy lookin' documents.

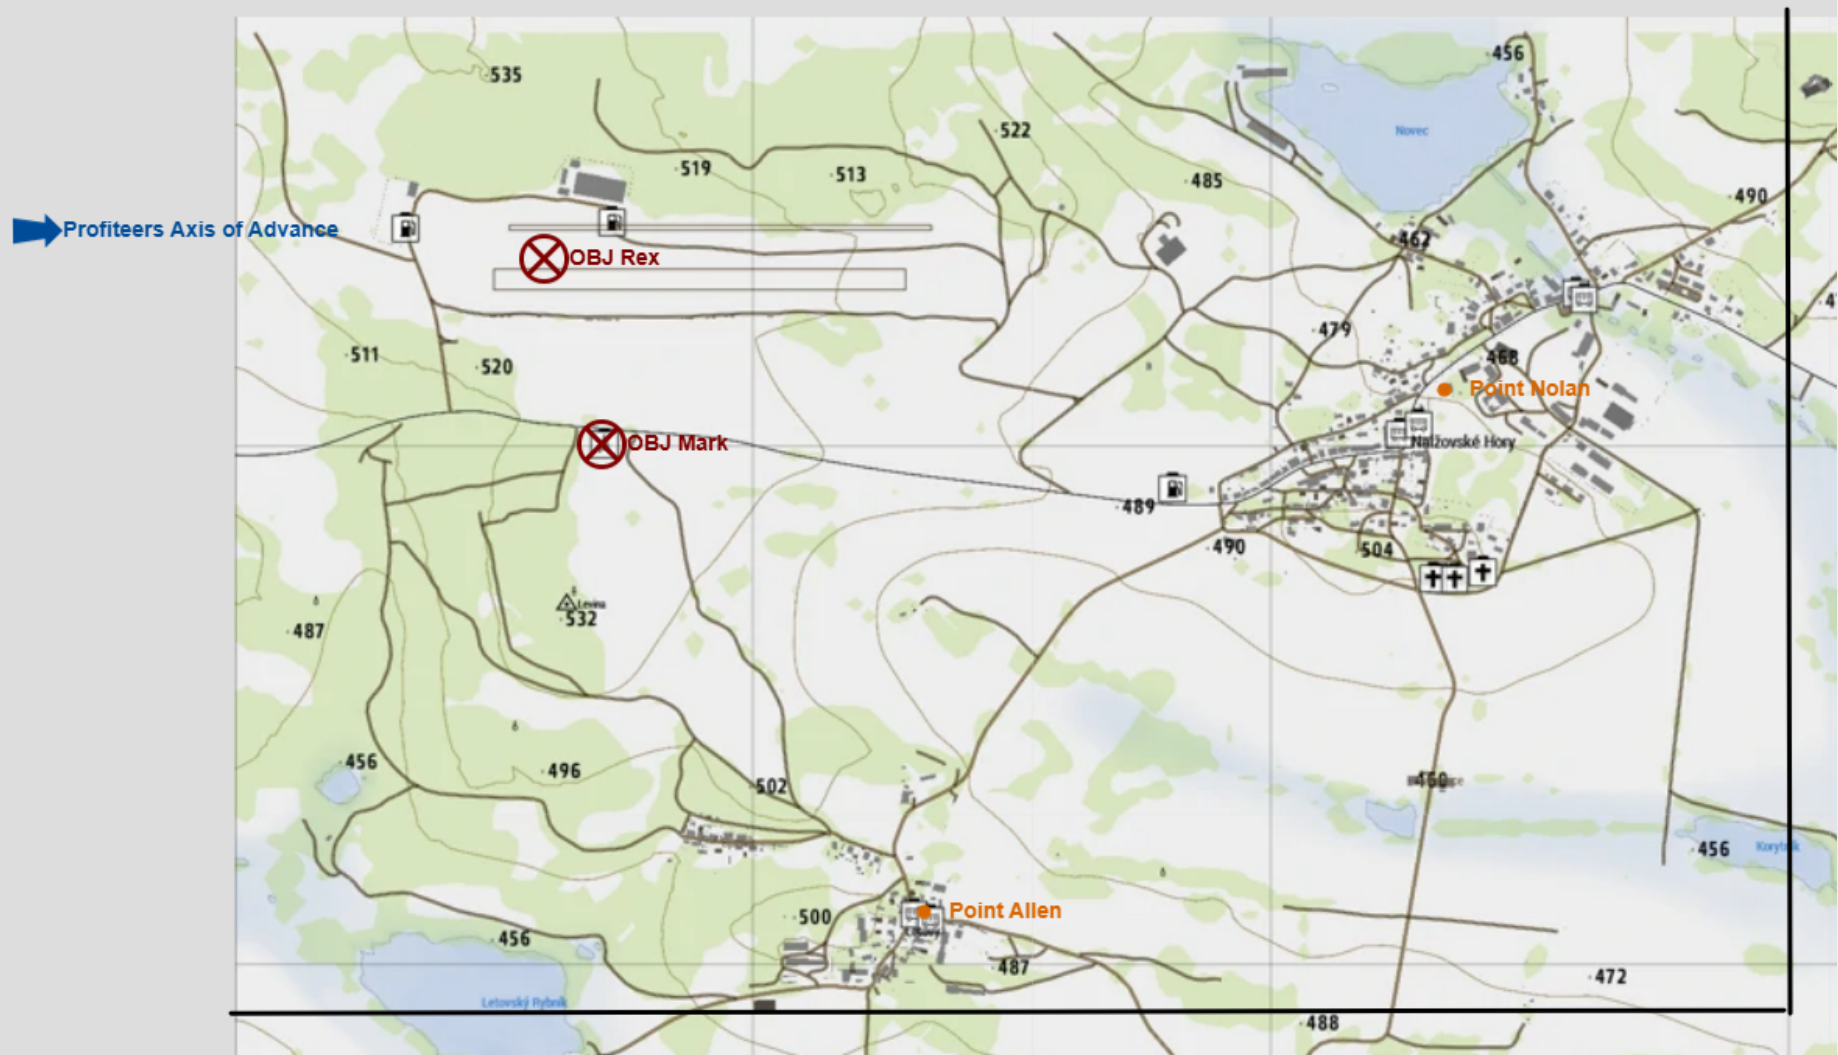

Point Allen, the town of Nalzovske Hory, is a major logistics hub for transport and supplies. While not required, you have the option to push further into the town and secure it; however, expect very heavy resistance. To the south of our AO, we also have a town designated Point Nolan. You may recon it if you wish.

That should be all from me. Make sure you secure any intel you find—it's worth its weight in gold for the intelligence teams back in the office. In the meantime, listen to what your leadership has to say, get your gear ready, and be prepared to step off by 2250. The Chinooks will be waiting outside.
