I attended an online training session with Martin Brossman and Justin Rose. The topic was Getting the Most Out of AI Tools for Small Businesses. Martin and Justin were fantastic! They were conversational and had great chemistry. It felt more like being an interactive guest member of their podcast versus sitting through [a] lecture and powerpoints. The tools and knowledge that they shared was massive, demonstrating not just those well known AI platforms, but some of the lesser known ones as well. Their demonstrations featured live prompts created on the spot from student participants. It was definitely a value-add. If you have questions about AI, these two are your guys. Great job!

I've taken a couple of classes from Martin now. I've learned a lot that I've been able to apply immediately, during the class. It's nice to have someone local to the Triangle who is so knowledgeable and able to teach different small business marketing tactics and technical information in person.

Working with Martin Brossman was a great experience. He is not only knowledgeable about the subject matter we discussed, he did his homework studying my small business before our meeting and gave great feedback and suggestions for my business. I have since embraced his teachings and boosted my social media presence by creating a website highlighting my work and creating a YouTube channel just to name a couple of items. This has led to more customers contacting me and inviting me to be a vendor at community events. I highly recommend Martin do consulting and training.

I have been impressed by Martin's dedication to helping both individuals and small businesses maximize their success through coaching, training, and providing a network of support. I first met Martin when I took his Social Media Mastery class in 2014. That class was foundational to my understanding and successful utilization of social media personally and professionally. Over the following years, I continued to find value in his content and the community of folks for whom he provides an ongoing venue for dialog and sharing. I highly recommend his classes and content.

I am attending the "Social Media Management Class" at NCSU that Martin Brossman is teaching. I also attended "Marketing Your Small Business through Social Media" through a local Chamber of Commerce. Both are excellent!!! Martin has a heart to help people succeed and for businesses to thrive. He is a master in this arena and is generous with his knowledge and gifts. His passion inspires others to step out of their comfort zones and learn new skills. I highly recommend his classes. He has a voice of influence and is using it to help others be better human beings. I am grateful he is so willing to share and invest in others' lives.

The Small Business Center at ICC brings Martin Brossman in from Raleigh as a social media instructor. I've taken his classes for the last three years. He is an expert in the social media world and consistently stays ahead of the current trends. If you want to utilize and learn the best way to market your business using social media then a class from Martin is the way to go. He presents the material in a format so the "newbie" can learn the process and the seasoned user can develop new techniques. He also creates tutorials that are available on his website. Thank you Martin for all your marketing techniques.

I so much enjoyed the social media training provided by Martin. He helped to make sure that I understood all of the features currently available to make sure that I'm optimizing what I can at the moment. He helped me take a leap into creating self made videos which is no easy task for an introvert. He gave me new and fresh ideas to help with my approach to social media for business. It's so clear that his passion is in helping small businesses. His positive energy is infectious! Thanks Martin!

Martin gives excellent coaching to businesses large and small. However, his passion for micro-businesses is unparalleled. He is truly a pioneer in the use of social media and professional networking. That expertise has been extremely valuable to me in adapting my activities as a sales and marketing professional to capitalize on new technologies and techniques.

I have thoroughly enjoyed attending classes offered by Martin and have read several of his outstanding books. The quality of people that attend Martin's classes is, in and of itself, a testament to the value of the content provided. I routinely see those same people returning for more advanced training to deepen their understanding.

While Martin is certainly a wealth of knowledge, his concern does not stop at the success of businesses, but extends well beyond to a concern for the personal well-being of his clients and the community.

I cannot recommend Martin Brossman more highly as a coach and as a friend.

Martin Brossman is a talented teacher, coach and speaker. He is an expert in social media marketing for all size businesses, but has a particular interest in small and micro-businesses. He offers classes all over the state. I have been fortunate enough to take a number of his classes. He is very creative and generous with his resources and ideas. He believes in his students' capabilities. If you have the chance to take one of Martin's classes or hear him speak, I would highly recommend attending.

I have now taken Martin's social media class four separate times, and each time I have learned something different. Martin manages to personalize each class, bringing specific recommendations to my work. As a direct result of Martin's teachings, my social media offerings have brought attention to my book, attention I would have probably not gotten previously.

Also, Martin has been very willing to assist outside of the class. He truly "walks the walk" when it comes to social media, practicing what he preaches. His passion shines through every time I encounter him, and I am always inspired.

I cannot recommend Martin enough. You are unlikely to find a more knowledgeable person on the subject of social media.

Martin is passionate about small business and making a difference in the lives of others. He has helped me personally with coaching, goal setting and social media. His advice has been a great help to my business as a commercial photographer. My wife and business partner, Brenda, makes our business truly a mom and pop operation which is a core area of the community Martin is all about helping. As a new business owner, with my wife and I having no computer skills, Martin's classes ,at the Small Business Center, have have really opened up what Social Media a free web marking can do for our business. We can't stop taking about it with our friends. In Martin's classes he really make a point to personally talk to each person as an individual addressing their unique needs for their business.

I see how it will help towns and counties as well. How we as individual business can work together to help ourselves and our town. We highly recommend Martin Brossman training.

I recently attended Martin's 6-week class on Using Social Media to Supercharge Your Business to "sharpen my saw" and further enhance my skills in the ever-changing social media landscape. Martin is a perfect example of someone who truly walks his talk. He's everywhere--go online and see for yourself. Thank you so much for the most amazing Social Media Marketing course over the last two days at Beaufort County Community College. Out of all the business classes I've taken over the last year, your class is by far the BEST course and I can't wait to apply what I have learned. As an artist, it has been difficult to find business instructors who understand my needs as a non-traditional business. Your course has definitely given me a great base to move forward from and I hope to do more research into a few of these marketing tools.

He had all the good attributes you would look for in a friend so I called him up for a consultation and I must say was very surprise he was not only very knowledgable but very personable as well (instead of all business). He knows his craft of marketing very well and in just a short time we talked I'm already reaping the benefits of our "short conversation." A couple weeks ago I attended an evening class by Martin Brossman at my local community college. It was called "Growing your Business with Social Media," and although I've been on Facebook for five years, and LinkedIn for longer, I got a lot out of this training! Martin clued me in to some tricks that I never knew about. What I most appreciated was Martin's personal commitment to helping grow small and micro businesses. I think this man truly 'gets' how economies are rebuilt and made more resilient in the 21st century.

Martin has single-handedly taught and inspired me from zero to ten. I knew nothing about social media and now through his teaching it has become central in our marketing as a small business. We have grown and the Sola Coffee name is becoming commonplace in the Raleigh marketplace. If you come to Sola, there is a good chance that Martin's coaching had something to do with it.

Thanks so much John for your kind words. Your teach as mastered the art of caring and connecting to the customer. Social Media only works when you have a great product and the courage to connect, you have both.

I'm grateful for you Martin and everything that you teach and do for people. The way that you share so much of your experience, knowledge and encouragement to apply practical steps is second to anything that I've personally received. I'll never forget the time that you spent with me on our initial meeting. I'm inspired and now have another really important person in my life that I'd like to try and impress and prove that I've applied what I've been taught. Cheers to you and company from Tom and Lynn Swain in Hillsborough N.C. at Magic on 70 Cafe and Shoppe another quality webinar by Martin Brossman. This webinar, with Noah Boswell, is significant for both the person with no experience in cryptocurrency and the person looking to integrate cryptocurrency into their ecommerce platforms. Never disappointed by the immediate practical relevance and value of Brossman's content. Looking forward to applying this information in both my own and my clients' businesses. ~Nadine Naujoks, Web Designer, Emerge Multimedia, LLC.

I attended the Shop Local, Buy Local seminar last night in Roxboro and I was very impressed with Mr. Brossman's expertise and style of presentation. He engaged the audience with thought-provoking questions and shared really useful information on how to bring more customers to our stores. I had no idea that Google Maps and Yelp could be used for more than finding directions or choosing a restaurant! He explained how they can be used to best advantage and how to sign up. When he returns to Roxboro for another seminar, I am going to encourage more merchants to attend, and even drag them there if I have to. I know they will benefit from the experience.

You will never be bored the minute you meet Martin Brossman and if you attend one of his (live) training sessions, you will be knocked off your chair!

There is enough energy and synergy in his classes to light Raleigh up for a week. You will finish his sessions roaring and anxious to try his techniques on your project or business, impatiently awaiting the magic to happen in the social ecosystem.

If you want to be plugged into the 21st Century, Martin Brossman is your conduit.

I saw him live and in person at Isothermal Community College. What an explosion of information about how to make your business grow and at no cost. It's all just about knowing what Google can do with its processing of information and linking bits of information to direct traffic to your page or business. I will have to go again because it was an overload [of information] for me. I highly recommend it for anyone with a business, especially small operations who are trying to build their business.
