From Mr. Logan...

Dear Families and Guardians,

As we enter a long stretch of instruction with minimal vacations and long weekends until spring break, I want to remind everyone that this is an important time to establish and maintain routines that support student learning. Checking planners, checking schoology, and having daily conversations with your student about what's going on in class will help keep his or her learning on track. If you need more information about what students are learning in their classes, every teacher has a document called "family resources" in schoology that is designed to help you keep tabs on the content of each class. Teachers have even posted questions that you can pose to your student related to the particular content in that class. Thanks for all that you do to support students' work in school. We couldn't do this without you!

Counseling Corner

As we navigate the middle school years with our students, supporting their social and emotional development becomes increasingly important. One crucial aspect of this development is cultivating healthy friendships.

In this Weekly Word, this PART 1 focuses on the importance of fostering positive connections and providing tips on how you can support your student in developing and maintaining healthy friendships.

Understanding Healthy Friendships:

Encourage your student to build friendships based on mutual respect, trust, and shared values. Remind them that healthy friendships should make them feel supported, accepted, and valued for who they are.

Effective Communication:

Help your student develop strong communication skills. Encourage them to express their thoughts and feelings openly and listen actively to their friends. Effective communication is key to resolving conflicts and strengthening relationships.

Setting Boundaries:

Teach your student the importance of setting boundaries in friendships. Discuss that it's okay to say 'no' when necessary and that respecting each other's boundaries is crucial for maintaining a healthy connection.

Promoting Inclusivity:

Encourage your student to be inclusive and open-minded. Help them understand the value of embracing diversity and making an effort to include others who may feel left out.

From Ms. Porter, Dean of Culture...

Yay for Counselor Appreciation Week this week! We have some fun activities planned so ask your student about them.

Also, February is Random Acts of Kindness Month! Do you or your student have some creative ideas for this? Have them come talk to me and see if we can make some random acts of kindness happen at Carbondale Middle School.

If anyone would like to sign up to bring teacher treats on a Friday in the next month or two, please let me know and I can give you the information for it. This has been a great addition to CMS this year and we are so thankful for the parents who have already signed up and brought in some delicious treats. Thanks again!

RFSD Online Registration form opens on February 10th for the 2025-2026 school year.

We will present our course offerings, tour the school, have our district online registration available to complete, and answer questions. We encourage all families to attend this night as we often struggle to accommodate private tours and meetings.

Carbondale Middle School and Carbondale Community School families do not need to submit an online registration.

Ross Montessori School, Waldorf School on the Roaring Fork, Marble Charter, Aspen Country Day, and Cornerstone Christian families are required to submit an online registration.

In February, we will send out links to The Rambler (course catalogue), 9th grade Registration sheet, district online registration, and contact information for our counselors. After February 22nd, I will share the slideshow we presented that evening and it will be available on our website.

Thank you,
Kristina Deadwiler
