ABSTRACT

A single paragraph of about 250 words maximum. For research articles, abstracts should give a pertinent overview of the work. We strongly encourage authors to use the following style of structured abstracts, but without headings: (1) Background: Place the question addressed in a broad context and highlight the purpose of the study; (2) Purpose of the Study: Identify the purpose and objective of the study; (3) Methods: Describe briefly the main methods or theoretical framework applied; (4) Results: Summarize the article's main findings; and (5) Conclusions: Indicate the main conclusions or interpretations.

Keywords: Keyword 1; keyword 2; keyword 3 (List three to five pertinent keywords specific to the article; yet reasonably common within the subject discipline; use lower case except for names)

INTRODUCTION

Within the scope of this research, the intersection of religion and policy represents a complex dimension that is the focus of our study. We employ Garamond font size 11 with single spacing to ensure clarity and readability. This research seeks to comprehend and analyze the role of religion within the context of policy in a specific region. The introduction encompasses crucial elements, addressing what, who, why, how, when, and where the research is conducted, along with the intended research goals.

This study is motivated by the necessity to understand the impact of the interplay between religion and policy on societal dynamics in the contemporary era. By applying single spacing, we aim to provide clarity in presenting the research context. The research focuses on identifying unique factors that distinguish it from similar studies conducted previously.

The literature review supports the foundational analysis by presenting relevant theories and scholarly perspectives on the intersection of religion and policy. In conducting this research, we refer to up-to-date sources, limited to the past ten years, ensuring that our analysis is based on the latest information. The selection of primary literature ensures the accuracy and relevance of the references used in crafting the manuscript.

Emphasis on the urgency, uniqueness, objectives, and research problems provides a clear direction for this study. The uniqueness of this research lies in its in-depth understanding of the impact and interaction between religion and policy in a specific context, a facet not fully explored by previous research. in the journal religion and policy you are asked to include research methods at the end of the introduction. The method contains an explanation of the research approach, subjects of the study, the conduct of the research procedure, the use of materials and instruments, data collection, and analysis techniques

RESULTS AND DISCUSSION

The results obtained from the research have to be supported by sufficient data. The research results and the discovery must be the answers, or the research hypothesis stated previously in the introduction part.

Heading 1: use this style for level one headings
Heading 2: use this style for level two headings
Heading 3: create the heading in italics

Bulleted lists look like this:
- First bullet
- Second bullet
- Third bullet

Numbered lists can be added as follows:
1. First item
2. Second item
3. Third item

2. Figures, Tables and Schemes
   All figures and tables should be cited in the main text as Figure 1, Table 1, etc.

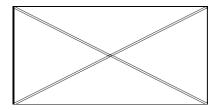

Figure 1. This is a figure. Figures should be placed in the main text near to the first time they are cited.

Table 1. This is a table. Tables should be placed in the main text near to the first time they are cited.

Title 1	Title 2	Title 3

3. Formatting of Mathematical Components (if any)
   This is an example of an equation:
   $$a = 1, \quad (1)$$

the text following an equation need not be a new paragraph. Please punctuate equations as regular text.

Theorem-type environments (including propositions, lemmas, corollaries etc.) can be formatted as follows:

Discussion: The discussion is highlighted through the title and subtitles of the section when needed

Authors should discuss the results and how they can be interpreted from the perspective of previous studies and of the working hypotheses. The findings and their implications should be discussed in the broadest context possible. Future research directions may also be highlighted. The following components should be covered in the discussion: How do your results relate to the original question or objectives outlined in the Introduction section (what/how)? Do you provide interpretation scientifically for each of your results or findings presented (why)? Are your results consistent with what other investigators have reported (what else)? Or are there any differences?

CONCLUSION

The conclusion should answer the objectives of the research and research discoveries. The concluding remark should not contain only the repetition of the results and discussions or abstract. You should also suggest future research and point out those that are underway.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

Acknowledgments: In this section, you can acknowledge any support given, which is not covered by the author's contribution or funding sections. This may include administrative and technical support, or donations in kind (e.g., materials used for experiments).

BIBLIOGRAPHY

The literature listed in the References contains only the sources referenced or included in the article. We recommend preparing the references with a bibliography software package, such as Mendeley, EndNote, Reference Manager or Zotero to avoid typing mistakes and duplicated references. Referral sources should provide 80% of journal articles, proceedings, or research results from the last five years. Writing techniques bibliography, using the system cites APA (American Psychological Association) Style and the 7th edition.
