Any amount will mean a lot to me and my family, My mom decided to dump us last night and took all the money we had from financial advisor support after our place getting flooded for days (That is almost 200$+) and TOOK my money that is around 70$..It was supposed to be our grocery budget for 3 weeks or a month but there's nothing left but just us and our dad, I will use the money I will receive to help them from this situation for our foods for next days and supporting my sibling's school funds and other Important needed at school, and also supporting my dad's passenger budget at his work.. We really need back-up for next days..

RT'S on post will help too!
