Hello! Thank you for showing interest in this project!

Project Overview

Adelpha: Supers of the Isles is a science fantasy comic about three friends uncovering the secrets of the world around them and within themselves.

Promo videos and extra clips will be made not only for fun but to help promote each completed chapter of the comic.

At least one short video will be created after each chapter, allowing recurring roles as characters reappear.

All animation and editing will be done by me, Vera!
No AI will be used, nor is it endorsed in this project.

The comic is already public if you need a peek before auditioning!
