

Hi Amy!

How's it going?

I wanted to reach out and say that I've been really impressed with your natural hair care products. My girlfriend has been using them for a while and has seen a significant improvement in her scalp condition.

I took a quick look on your website and saw that you have an Ebook to cure lower back pain.

So, I've made these adjustments for you, they're attached below!

The new product description makes the reader more enthusiastic to buy, and this leads to more sales for you!

I would love to show you more ways for your website to grow using effective strategies, like advertising on social media. Just shoot me a reply if you are interested!

All the best,

Danylo

Although she likes the product and it really is a blessing for her, there are some ways you could improve the persuasiveness in the product description from the optimal Protein treatment.
