

Towards the Classification of Planetary Types: Serial and Rampage Killers Versus Scientists Closest Aspect

Previous studies such as “Mystics, Authors, Mercury and Planetary Aspects,” and “Mars, Planetary Aspects and Serial and Rampage Killers,” have strongly indicated that the closest aspect, that is the aspect with the smallest orb, has the most powerful effect over a person’s personality. In the present study the relationship between Mercury and Saturn and scientists was compared to the results of the previous “Serial and Rampage Killers.” All studies are published on The Science of Astrology website. (<https://thescienceofastrology.yolasite.com/>) The previous study on killers found that Mars and Pluto were the most frequent indicators as the closest aspect in the natal chart of the subjects. This was the expected result. The traditional view in astrology as per Message of the Stars, by Max Heindel and Practical Astrology by Alan Leo is that Mercury and Saturn’s aspects are good indicators of scientists. In this study we examine the frequency of either Saturn, or Mercury being the closest aspect in the natal chart. We then compare the frequency of Saturn and Mercury as the closest aspect in the Killers charts and the presence of Mars and Pluto in the scientists chart. The charts for serial and rampage killers were erected from the information on serial and rampage killers on Wikipedia and then the charts were found on the AstroDataBank and analysed. The charts for the scientists were randomly selected from the database at the AstroDataBank. 134 aspects were considered for the scientists and 105 for the serial and rampage killers.

Results:

Forty one hits for Mercury/Saturn were recorded for the scientists. This in itself is significant $p=0.0047$ and is significant at the 99% confidence level. For The serial and rampage killers there were 44 hits for Mars/Pluto. This has $p=0.009$. The frequency of the Mercury/Saturn aspects in the Serial/Rampage Killers charts compared to the Scientists charts. Only eight Mercury/Saturn aspects were found in the Serial Killers chart. This comparison is significant at the 99% confidence level with $p=0.00001$. The Presence of the Mars/Pluto combination in the scientists charts was 15. This is significant at the 99% confidence level with $p=0.004$.

Serial and Rampage Killers Closest Aspect.

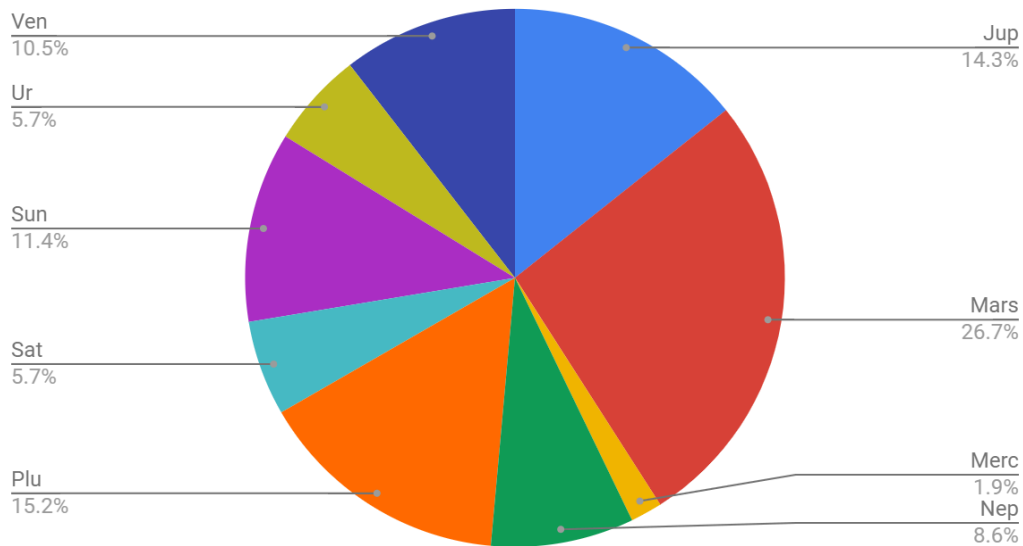

Chart 1. Here we have the planets involved in the closest aspect for the serial and rampage killers. The two significator planets are Mars and Pluto, which rule the Martial Signs of Aries and Scorpio respectively. Mars and Pluto are presumed to act in similar manners. Before the discovery of Pluto Mars was assigned rulership of Scorpio, however astrologers observing the action of Pluto assigned rulership of Scorpio to Pluto as they seemed to act in a very similar manner. We can see here that they are the first and third most significant planets found in the charts. The second most abundant planet was Jupiter. This was unexpected, but can easily be accounted for by the observations recently made concerning the sphere of influence of Jupiter. (Professions and the Common Signs, https://docs.google.com/document/d/1-Y8tuZuGzzqEMBJ-VBzVnDPZwQMtlhHw_qdOBg_7IU/e/dit?usp=sharing) Jupiterian types can be authoritarian and think others are below them. They want control over others and the ultimate control is to kill a person. The serial killers had Jupiter as the second most frequent planet. Pluto was third. The serial killers make it a game. They want control and often stalk their victims and plan carefully how they are going to kill them. 42% of the pie chart is occupied by the indicator planets Mars and Pluto.

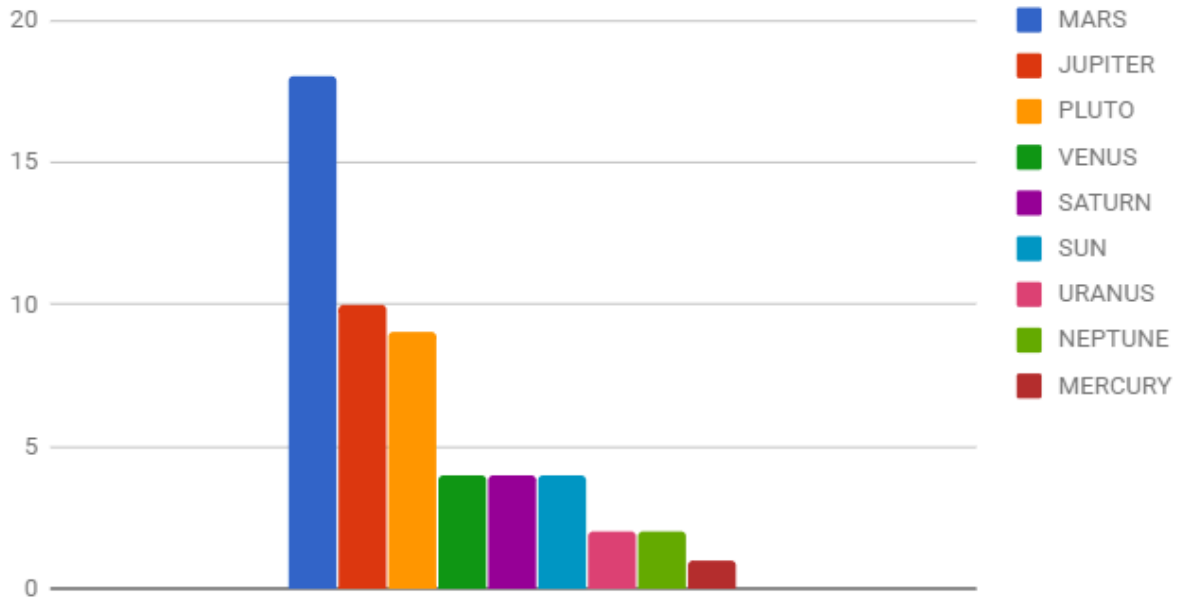

Chart 2. Here we have the rank of the planets for serial killers. It is all about Mars, Jupiter and Pluto. All about controlled and focussed violence.

Rampage Killers

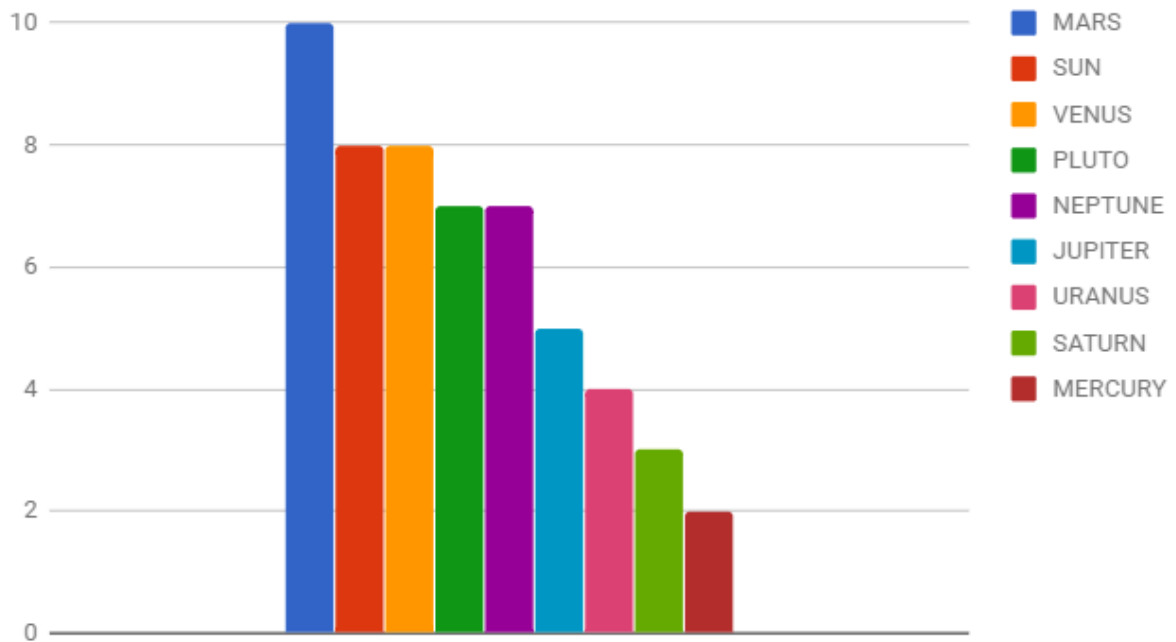

Chart 3. Rampage killers go 'Postal.' They are enraged and just start shooting. It's often about ego. They just got fired, or lost their girlfriend, etc. Here we have the Sun, the astrological ego, in second place. Venus is next. They are passionate about what they are doing. Then comes Pluto and Neptune. Neptune the Mystic, the Dreamer. Their dreams have been shattered and they want to hurt others like they have been hurt- Pluto. They are the types who say “You’ll be sorry for this!” and they follow through. They may also say, “You’ll be sorry when I’m dead!” and they usually kill themselves during the event, or get the police to kill them.

MINOR SERIAL KILLERS

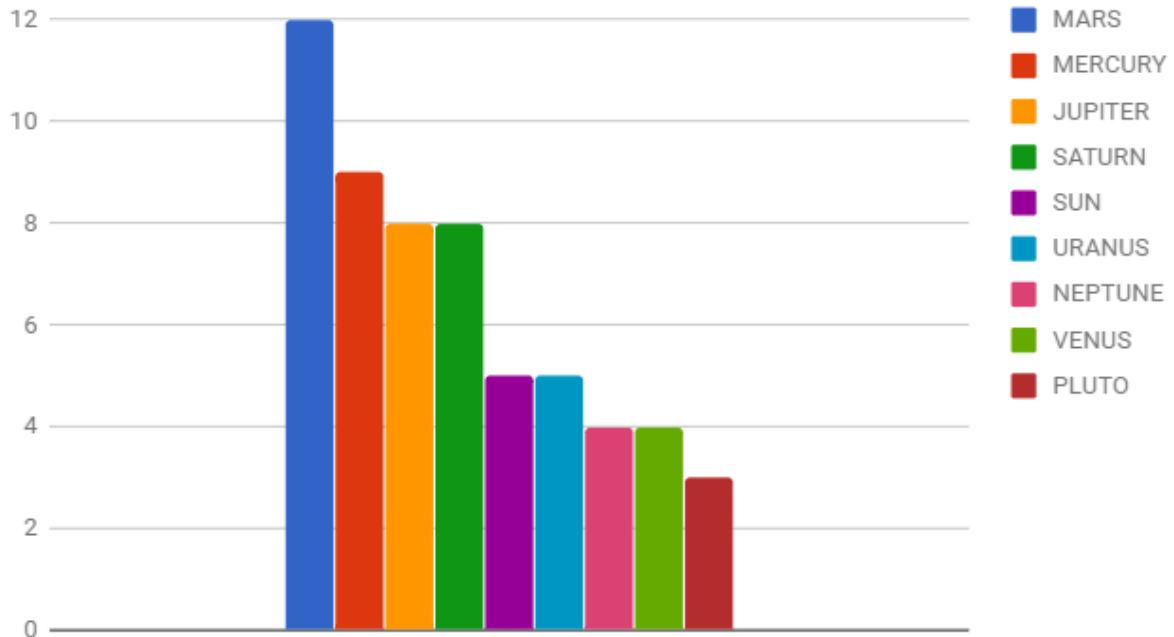

Chart 4. Minor serial killers are categorized as such for short term, or few killings being connected to a theme. These people were not included in the overall study and are included here to emphasize the themes of the influences that are apparent. (Same Source as serial and rampage killers article on Wikipedia.) Here we have the ‘Killer Scientist.’ The cold blooded killers who are just in for the terror and the horrors they can commit on the other person. Mercury and Saturn are indicators for scientists to a very high level of confidence. Like the fictional Hannibal Lector, or Jack the Ripper, the horror and terror of it all is the appeal. Pluto scored low with these killers. They are not looking for long term control. They have it down to a science and the kill is quick, efficient and often very messy. As Jupiter is high they want the person in the end to feel like nothing compared to their power over them.

ALL KILLERS

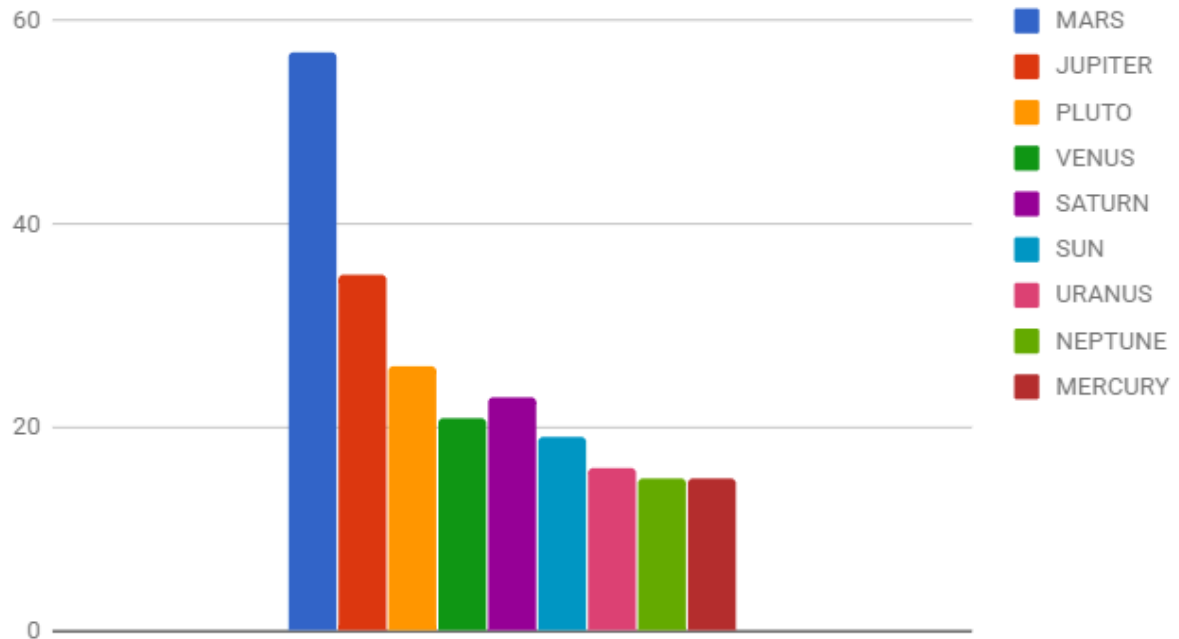

Chart 5. When all three types of killers are examined together Mars dominates well above all the others at a very high level of significance. The need for dominance, Jupiter and control, Pluto is magnified by their need to satisfy their violent feelings and to take it out on others.

Planets Involved in Closest Aspect Scientists

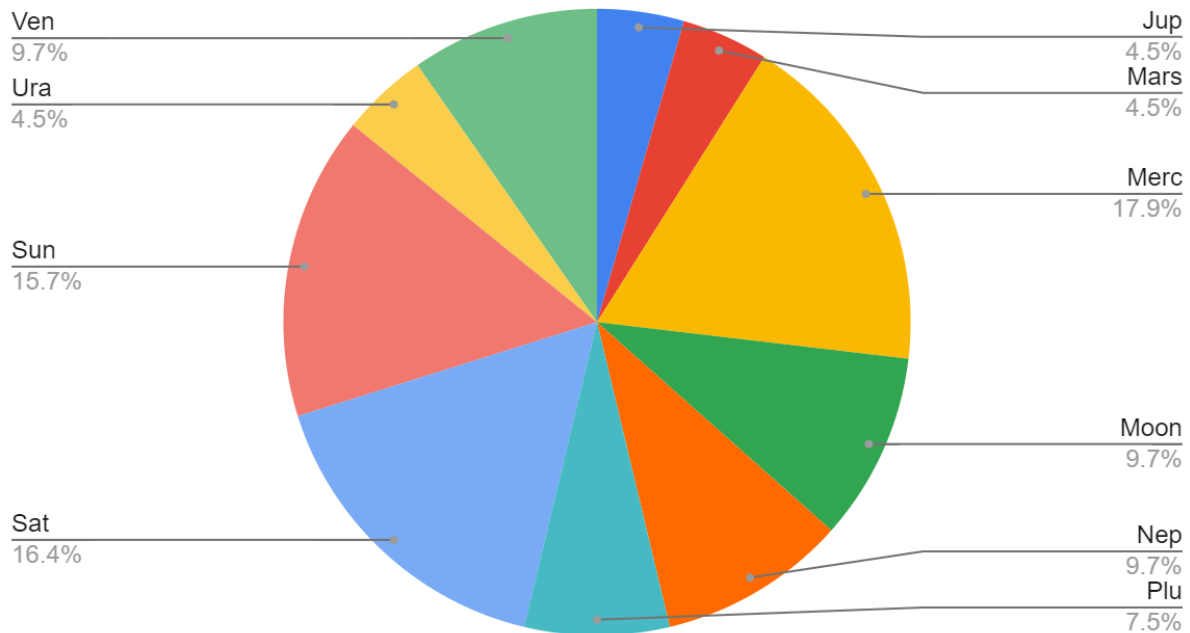

Chart 6. For scientists Mercury and Saturn clearly dominate the pie chart occupying over 34% of the area. The sun is next and the scientists who are in the database are famous, and so are more extroverted than might be found for all scientists. The Moon, which is associated with the mind, ranks third. The glaring difference between these charts and the killers is very easily observed. Mars and Pluto combined occupy 12% of the pie and Jupiter only 4.5%. Scientists it appears are the opposite of controlling as opposed to killers need for it. In the killer's pie chart 33% is occupied by Pluto and Mars. For the Scientists 34% of the pie chart is taken up by Mercury and Saturn. Clearly these types are opposites of extremes. Both are obsessive in nature, one for the good and one for evil.

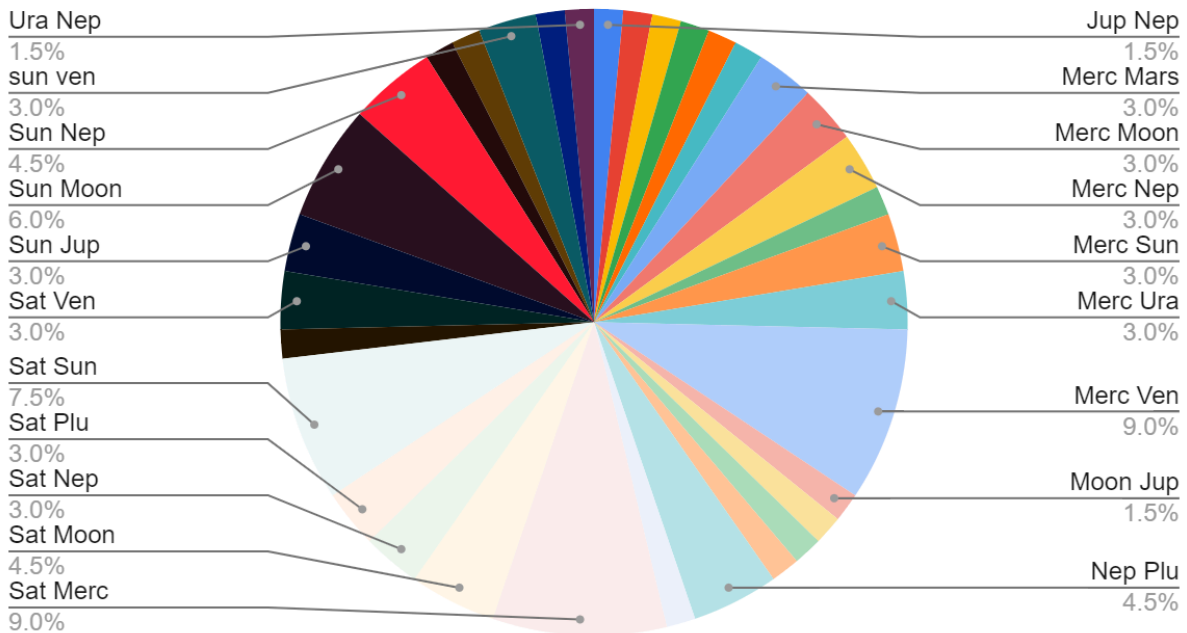

Chart 7. Here we illustrate a more complete breakdown of the actual aspects percentages in the scientists charts. It is easier to observe the dominance of Mercury and Saturn in this manner as well.

Conclusion

Statistically the relationship between Mars and Pluto in the killers natal charts was very robust at the 99% confidence level. The same is true at the 99% confidence level for the Scientists Mercury and Saturn. The statistical difference between the two groups is extremely robust and has a p score of 0.00001 probability. From this then we must conclude that the astrological observations that Mercury and Saturn powerfully aspected tend a person towards a career in the sciences and that Mars and Pluto produce violent and cruel temperaments. The Mars/Pluto types are prone to violence and aggression as predicted. Mars is the dominant planet in these types as expected by all astrological sources. The presence of Jupiter at such a high level was not expected, but it is logical as we observed and as previously reported in the paper, "Professions and the Common Signs," Jupiterians also tend to be authoritarians. Authoritarians wish to control others and thus, is created, when combined with Mars and Pluto, the rampage and serial killer types. The third type of serial killer, the Minor, are of a different sub-type. They are more the "recreational" killer and may have killed more than has been accounted for as they are very careful, like scientists, about what they do.

The astrological hypothesis has been upheld in all of these stringent tests and can be easily replicated. They adhere to known astrological observations and thus, replicate the work of many astrologers who have stated the same findings in their own reported research. The test was a success for astrology and annihilates the null hypothesis. These experiments and studies have proven beyond any reasonable, or logical doubt, that the planets do influence people through their positions when they are born.

Note Aspects are all angles divisible by 15 including the conjunction for all studies as has been previously noted.
