What if playing a game could help change the world?

What if it could even help us achieve a just transition to a regenerative economy via a Green New Deal in the next 9 years? This is the goal of the Game of Life Reimagined.

In the midst of the COVID-19 pandemic and its impacts, increasing climate chaos, horrendous racist violence, and deepening economic inequality, it's high time we re-imagine what kind of world we want - together - and how to get there.

Many amazing overlapping visionary frameworks already exist - such as the Green New Deal, THRIVE Agenda, Vision for Black Lives, the People's Orientation to a Regenerative Economy, and many more.

Our goal is to gameify these visions and goals, and the action steps it will take to win the world we need in time. We want our path to be as clear as possible in every mind and heart for a true culture shift.

Check out bethegreen.win/LifeReimaginedGame to learn more about this developing game, and to be a part of it!

To get involved, you can help rewrite action cards for the game, share our campaign with the right people, or donate via our UW crowdfunding campaign!

Let's win a better world together - and have fun doing it!

WE BELIEVE WE CAN ACHIEVE A JUST TRANSITION TO A BETTER WORLD IF WE CAN IMAGINE IT FIRST

These are the 4 pillars in "A People's Orientation to a Regenerative Economy" vision document

TAKE ACTION TO BUILD THE WORLD AROUND YOU

As you take action, you create the world
you want - and save the one we have

PLAY WITH OTHERS TO ACHIEVE BALANCE

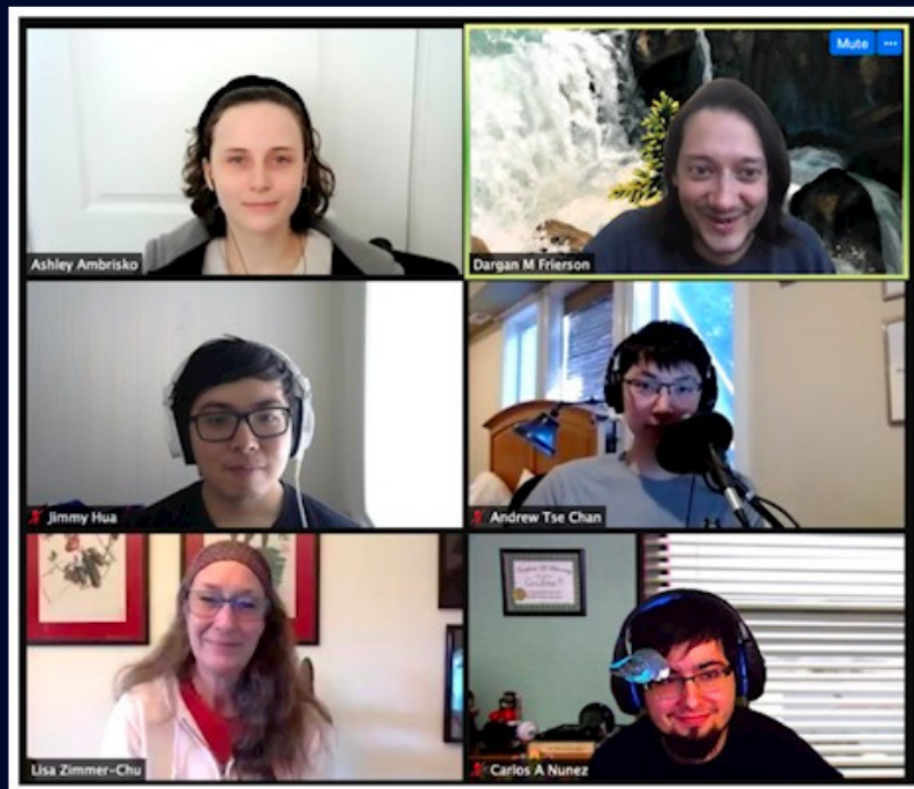

Balance the SSSweet points - Self, Society, and Sustainability - to win.

READY TO PLAY?

Help us finish the game so it's ready and everyone can learn to contribute to a just transition - the fun way.

MEET THE MAKERS

Students and volunteers from EarthGames studio at UW and around the country have helped create a pilot.

GAMING GIVES US HOPE

There are 3.4 billion gamers worldwide. Gamers become experts in “urgent optimism, social fabric, blissful productivity, and epic wins.” We can harness these skills to solve our most urgent problems in time.

Quote from Jane McGonigal in her Ted Talk “Gaming can Make a better world.”

WE ARE JUST GETTING STARTED

Our 1st, 2nd, and 3rd priority changes are planned out over the next year to launch a great game in 2023
We have our first developers, consultants, and volunteers lined up but we need your help.

Use these first 9 above that are alike and choose one of the last 2 for the 10th

our collective voice and shared sense of mission. What we so desperately need now is to turn the storyline into a powerful narrative that can take us forward.”
