I do have openings

I specialize in supporting teens and adults, particularly those who identify as LGBTQIA+ or performing artists, who are feeling anxious, sad, and overwhelmed. My approach helps manage anxiety, depression, ADHD, insomnia, and OCD, offering thoughtful conversations and practical tools to get you back to living fully.

As a therapist, I have developed a caring, honest, creative and direct style that I hope will help us to better connect. That connection will allow me to help you meet your goals. I treat a range of mental health issues including those listed above utilizing CBT and ACT. For a more detailed list, feel free to visit our website. I know firsthand that it can be difficult to find a therapist who understands the importance of continuing to be COVID-safe. I appreciate that taking one's health and personal wellness seriously is not a sign of mental illness. I hope that you will feel both safe and understood during our sessions.

If you define yourself by your accomplishments and your strength, and you're running out of energy to sustain the pace at which you're moving, I can help. Society or culture have dictated the ideal for your role or gender, be that provider of the family, or eldest child in a family of immigrants, and you have molded yourself to reach this ideal and not let anyone down. But you can see how this has taken its toll, and you're curious about finding another way. The single most important factor in successful therapy is the relationship between client and Psychologist. As a culturally competent Latina Psychologist, fluent in English and Spanish, we will code-switch our way to a more useful life.

I believe that being Covid Cautious is a logical response to danger.

I have a direct, non-judgmental and caring style, intermingled with humor. I thoroughly interview you about your past and examine how it shaped you, your emotions, your thoughts, and the way you interact in the world. I welcome clients of different ethnicities, cultures, religions, sexual orientations, nationalities, and abilities and am always eager to learn about areas I'm not as familiar with.

My approach to therapy primarily incorporates interpersonal and family system techniques, but I can also utilize EMDR, CBT, Gestalt, Attachment, and Trauma-based therapies. I'm able to work with clients who enjoy homework and structure as part of the therapy process, as well as clients who enjoy a more fluid approach. For those who want structure, I usually provide writing or behavioral assignments that specifically target the issues that you are working on. My focus is to help you achieve the changes that you want in your life so that you can obtain the goals that are meaningful for you.

Gabriel Vega Counseling, PLLC strives to meet the virtual, trauma-informed, therapeutic needs of marginalized and disenfranchised individuals in New Hampshire and Vermont. My specialties include treating Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD), Dissociative Disorders, and symptoms related to complex developmental trauma. I specifically provide virtual Eye Movement Desensitization and Reprocessing (EMDR) therapy and Deep Brain Reorienting (DBR) therapy for adults 18+. My other specialties include treating depression, providing Gender Affirming Care for gender-diverse populations, anxiety disorders, minority stress, family conflict, and providing culturally competent treatment.

Established in 2022: After the COVID-19 pandemic started, it became clear that people needed trauma-informed mental health support that went beyond the typical office visit. Gabriel Vega Counseling, PLLC understands that cutting travel time, reducing exposure to illness or extreme weather events, and accepting technology as a helpful tool are just a few ways our new “normal” can be embraced.

My Goal: My ultimate goal is to provide exceptional clinical mental health counseling with the convenience of virtual service delivery - whether in your home, office, car, park bench or wherever you see fit.

I am a licensed psychologist based in Philadelphia who also meets with folks virtually across 42 PSYPACT-participating states.

I know firsthand that navigating life in a world that was not built with you in mind can be exhausting. If you're Black, neurodivergent, or hold other marginalized identities, you may be carrying weight that others can't see—but you feel it every day. This is a space where your experience is not only acknowledged but centered.

I offer individual therapy to help you reconnect with your sense of self, explore your emotions safely, and build tools for navigating a world that often misunderstands you. I also provide psychological testing and diagnostic clarification for Autism, ADHD, and other concerns—especially for people who have had difficulty accessing accurate, affirming diagnoses in the past.

Whether you're seeking healing, answers, or simply a place where you don't have to explain the basics of who you are, I'm here to walk alongside you.
