Anon fakes being gay

My girlfriend wants to know if there's a recognized fetish for people obsessed with picking each other's noses until blood comes out and whether or not I can somehow convince you to write a chapter about it. She's an odd, odd, beautiful soul, and I'm no longer sure she even knows what noses are.

I just keep thinking "Ow, hooves."

Centaurs - Could go either way, but for maximum absurdity, I'd use both versions (i.e. once with a human upper body and a pony's lower body; and once with a pony's upper body and a human's lower body).

Sex Games, indicating that it's about board games that have multiple players, like Monopoly, but all of the penalties/bonuses for the game infer he is to have to sex with her.

Dirty Sanchez - My suggestion: Fluttershy doesn't know what it means, so she figures it's one of Anon's nicknames for something else. Perhaps a grilled cheese sandwich using garlic butter or something.

Pretty Pink Pussies - She's found a breed of kitten that are born pink.

Eldritch Abominations - Don't ask her or Pinkie where they found an Old God costume. Or why they thought it might work.

Here it is: Fluttershy comes to Anon with the same guess several days in a row claiming it was her first time asking. Anon hears about her being in an accident and getting brain damage. Anon wagers small things "guessing" her intended fetish and wins until he bets something large (date,sex,boxers,etc) then Fluttershy changes her guess to "are amnesiac ponies your fetish?" and she wins revealing that at least part of it was a set-up.

"And that was the day she felt love at first sight.....

The guy didn't."
