To ensure everyone can join our bibliotherapy group, here is a list of resources for finding a physical copy or audiobook of Brené Brown's The Gifts of Imperfection. We encourage you to explore the free options first!

- Completely Free Options:

- Your Local Library: Visit your local library branch to check out a physical copy for free.
- Libby App: This is the most popular app for borrowing free e-books and audiobooks from the library. Download the app, connect your library card, and you can borrow the book instantly or place a hold.
- Hoopla App: Another great app that connects to your library card. Hoopla often has titles available with no waitlists, using a monthly borrow limit set by your library. It's always worth checking here in addition to Libby.
- Little Free Library: Check Little Free Libraries around town to see if any of them have the book. You might get lucky! Click here for map.

- Low-Cost & Used Book Stores:

- ThriftBooks: An excellent online store for very cheap used books, often for just a few dollars. They also offer free shipping on orders over a certain amount.
- AbeBooks: A huge online marketplace for new and used books from thousands of sellers.
- Better World Books: Similar to ThriftBooks, this site offers low prices on used books and often has free shipping.
- Local Used Bookstores
- Facebook Marketplace: Keep an eye out on local buy/sell groups. People often sell popular books like this for just a few dollars after they've finished reading them.

- Audiobook Deals:

- Audible Free Trial: If you haven't used Audible before, you can sign up for a 30-day free trial, which includes one free credit to purchase any audiobook. You get to keep the book even if you cancel the trial.
- Chirp Audiobooks: This is a service that sells audiobooks at a deep discount with no subscription required. Check to see if they have a deal on this title.
- Spotify: Sometimes Spotify will have the title on sale.

If you find it cheap somewhere else or have other ideas of where to look, please share
