Resource Title:

Planning your Flight

Resource URL:

https://en.wikivoyage.org/wiki/Planning_your_flight

Currency: The timeliness of the information:When was the resource published or posted?Has the resource been revised or updated?Does your topic require current information?Are the links functional?

This comprehensive article has 'guide' status, meaning it has good, detailed information covering the entire topic. Information is updated frequently (revisions listed from 2013 to current) and links are functional. I like that you can download as a PDF

Relevance: The importance of the information for your needsDoes the resource relate to your needs?Who is the intended audience?Is the information in the resource at an appropriate level for your learners?

It relates precisely to many elements that I teach in depth throughout multiple courses. The intended audience is anyone who travels, but the information is a detailed portion of a series explaining the standard procedures, rules and other basics of travelling by air. It is fantastic for travel-tourism and cabin crew students.

Authority: The source of the informationWho is the creator? What are their credentials or organizational affiliations?Are they qualified to write on this topic?

WikiVoyage.org (crowd sourced)Affiliation IATA (International Air Transport Agency)

Accuracy: The reliability and truthfulness of the informationIs the information supported by evidence?Has the resource been reviewed or refereed?Are there spelling, grammar, or typographical errors?

Links to sources found within, reviewed by WikiVoyage users, no spelling/grammar errors

Purpose: The reason the information existsWhy does this resource exist? (to inform, teach, sell, entertain, or persuade?)Is the information fact, opinion, or propaganda? Are there political, ideological, cultural, religious, institutional, or personal biases?

It exists as a comprehensive guide to inform, it is fact, and there are no evident biases

Notes: Are there additional questions or observations you have about this material that affect your decision to use it? (i.e. this is an opinion piece that I will use to demonstrate one side of an argument).

This is a comprehensive overview that I would use as an introduction to concepts before teaching each part in-depth.

Final Recommendation: Will you use this resource? Why or why not?

Yes - it ties together so many concepts throughout multiple courses.
