

Hi Steve,

I was drinking my coffee in Starbucks and overheard two people talking about a post on Facebook that they were curious about.

I was thinking about it, so I looked at your post and liked how you show people the events that are coming and what is going to happen. I appreciate that you are putting in the time and effort to create a post for everyone to look at.

I was wondering what kind of program you are offering, so I visited your website. I have an idea that could make the audience stop scrolling and get attached to your post more effectively.

I have something for you, so I have attached a Facebook ad tryout.

(attached FV)

If you like what I did reply yes to let me know to brainstorm more ideas for you.

Have a good day

Nicholas Pena