

To Whom It May Concern,

We are the Glastonbury Goats, a passionate FIRST LEGO League(FLL) robotics team from Connecticut, and we're thrilled to announce that we won the Connecticut FLL state championship and are advancing to the FIRST LEGO League World Championship in Houston, Texas in April 2024. FIRST Lego League (FLL) is a robotics program designed to interest students from middle school to high school in robotics as well as leadership, entrepreneurship, and communication. Approximately 81% of alumni go into STEAM majors.

The World Championship is a prestigious and well-attended event, drawing thousands of spectators and showcasing the best young minds in STEM from around the globe. More than 50,000 people from 59 countries and hundreds of company sponsorships for the event teams attended this event in 2023. For us, the Glastonbury Goats, this is more than a competition; it's a chance to learn, grow, and represent our community on an international stage.

As a sponsor of the Glastonbury Goats, you will gain invaluable marketing and community engagement opportunities. Your brand will be showcased to an diverse, global audience at the FIRST LEGO League World Championship. This exposure includes visibility on team apparel, promotional materials, and digital platforms, offering extensive reach and brand recognition.
