Prompt #4

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Dragons

Scenario: Muggles have found a dragon skeleton in Wales and mistake it for a dinosaur. The find is nationwide news, at least in scientific circles, because only two other dinosaurs have ever been discovered in Wales, with the most recent being a brand new species. (This is actually true from what I've been able to find online, with the second having been found only last summer, June 2015—a brand new species the size of a dog and christened Dracoraptor hanigani, according to several websites. Feel free to have fun with that name!) Top Muggle paleontologists around the world are astounded by the find—it's the size of a city bus and intact. It also shows evidence of possible wings! Draco is a top dragonologist, and Harry is the liaison between the Ministry of Magic and the Muggle Parliament. Together they've got some major damage control to take care of.

Additions: No Character Bashing, Please

Era: Post Hogwarts/EWE

Maximum Rating: Totally up to the claimer.

Prompt #6 *Claimed for FIC***

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Crups

Scenario: Harry left for a two-week field assignment, swearing it would be his last. That was three months ago. Now, Draco is left alone with Harry's and his Crups, waiting for news. From there, nature takes its course. . . .

Additions: No Character Bashing, Please/Maybe Harry could buy a kitten for Draco as a gift, thinking Draco looked a little sad to give Crookshanks back, and Draco very sternly points out all the reasons why you should never surprise someone with a pet as a gift, but it's clear the kitten and he are keeping each other.

Draco spends month after month desperately trying to perfect the Wolfsbane potion, without success. With the help of the house-elves, he has been caring for his surviving parent every full moon as best he can, using the Manor's dungeon and powerful magic to contain the werewolf, but as time passes, he grows more and more desperate, fearing that his surviving parent will kill himself or herself rather than face another full moon. As a last ditch effort, he approaches Harry for help. He doesn't have much hope of Harry helping him, but he not only gets the help he needs, but something more.

Additions: No Character Bashing, Please

Era: Post Hogwarts/EWE

Maximum Rating: Totally up to the claimer.

Prompt #48

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Dog, or cat, or ferret, or toad, or snake, or pygmy puff, or...

Scenario: Harry and Draco's relationship seems to be coming apart at the seams. It was only to be expected, after all. What they were thinking, no one close to either of them could ever imagine. Just when it seems the row of rows has ended things once and for all, the pet they bought together when they moved in together runs away, and too worried to remember they're angry with the other, they start searching for the mischievous little mutt (or cat, or ferret, or toad, or snake, or pygmy puff, or...) and find each other again.

Additions: I know the nature of the prompt doesn't lend itself to the most supportive of supportive characters, but no outright bashing, please.

Era: Post Hogwarts/EWE

Maximum Rating: Totally up to the claimer.

Prompt #49

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Multiple. Up to the claimer—dogs, crups, cats, kneazle, pygmy puff, toad, snake, etc. Whatever you want.

Scenario: Draco and Harry have decided to give in to their children's begging and buy a family pet. When they arrive at the pet store, they realize each one of their children wants something different, not to mention, Harry is immediately taken by a crup puppy, while Draco falls in love at first sight with a kneazle kitten. Home goes the family with essentially their own menagerie.

Additions: No Character Bashing, Please

Era: Post Hogwarts/EWE

Maximum Rating: Totally up to the claimer.

Prompt #50

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Thestrals and/or Buckbeak

Scenario: Draco is sentenced to community service, beginning with helping with the rebuilding of Hogwarts. Harry never sees him there, until one day he sees him slipping into the Forbidden Forrest, unobserved by anyone else. Sure he's up to no good, Harry follows him, only to find him treating a group of thestrals and/or Buckbeak, who were/was injured during the battle. One of the creatures' injuries cannot be healed, and Harry sees how Draco is with it and how effected he is by its death.

Additions: No character bashing, please./Maybe after working with the creatures, Draco confides to Harry he'd like to be an animal healer but with the Dark Mark on his arm, he has no chance of being accepted into training or an apprenticeship. Harry supports him publicly, and with that support, Draco is reluctantly accepted into training or an apprenticeship, but being accepted, doesn't mean he's wanted, and he has a lot of crap to deal with before he can earn his teachers or anyone else's respect.

Era: Post Hogwarts/EWE

Maximum Rating: Totally up to the claimer.

Prompt #51

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Crups (or Kneazles or whatever you like)

Scenario: Harry had one last errand to run in Diagon Alley, a quick stop at Magical Menagerie to pick up something for Crookshanks for Hermione. He didn't know what made him stop to look at the Crup puppies, but he knew he was sunk the moment he did. Now, he just needs to explain to Draco that they have a puppy. (Could also be Draco stopping to pick up something for Narcissa's pet, if you like that scenario better.)

Additions: No character bashing, please/Crups are reported to eat anything, so maybe Draco's handmade Italian shoes, the sleeve of Harry's Weasley jumper....

Era: Post Hogwarts/EWE

Maximum Rating: Totally up to the claimer.

Prompt #52

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Anything and everything from Pygmy Puffs to Hippogriffs.

Scenario: Draco has turned the manor and grounds into an animal refuge for abandoned/injured/abused animals and creatures, both big and small. Harry is forced to work with him for whatever reason you want—an Auror working a case, a Ministry employee checking on codes or allegations of misconduct, an animal Healer... Could be a past relationship they both regret ending, or maybe ending it was for the best at the time but things have changed, could be a long secretly harbored crush, could be anything little old thing your little old heart desires. I just love the idea of Draco running an animal sanctuary.

Additions: No character bashing, please.

Era: Post Hogwarts/EWE

Maximum Rating: Totally up to the claimer.

Prompt #53

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Harry's Animagus form, could be anything you want.

Scenario: Harry is an Auror. Draco is the top suspect for a crime. Most people are convinced he's guilty, but Harry's convinced he's being framed. He uses his Animagus form to investigate and find the real guilty party, with or without the knowledge of the Head Auror. Draco finds out Harry's been investigating him, and he jumps to the conclusion Harry was searching for evidence to prove him guilty. Harry has to try to make him believe what he was really doing was searching for evidence to prove him innocent. There can have been a past relationship, a secret current one, secret feelings on one or both sides, whatever you want

Additions: No character bashing, please./A twist would be if Draco actually was guilty. What would Harry do? Maybe he's guilty but being forced or Imperiused, and when Harry confronts him with the evidence to prove his guilt, he has to make Harry believe he's acting against his will.

Era: Post Hogwarts/EWE

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Snake (Preferably, Draco's Animagus form, or if you'd rather, his Patronus)

Scenario: Draco's Animagus form or his Patronus is a snake. After seeing what being a Death Eater really means, Draco switches sides, unbeknownst to anyone. In either his Animagus form or with his Patronus, he passes information to Harry in Parseltongue. Harry has no idea who his informant is until something he hears or sees makes him suspect it's Draco. But can he believe it, and if it is Draco, can he believe what he's being told?

Additions: No character bashing, please./I've always wanted to see a scene where the duel in Myrtle's bathroom makes Draco realize that Harry understood the stakes long before he himself did. I'd love it if that scene—Harry's strength during the duel and his concern for Draco afterward—was instrumental in Draco's final decision to switch sides.

Era: Wartime, or could be post wartime if you want Harry to suspect his informant was Draco after Voldemort was killed.

Maximum Rating: Totally up to the claimer.

Harry and Draco get a crup (or any animal you want) for themselves, or they get one for Teddy. Draco gives the crup some strong sounding name (i.e. Duke) but Teddy's really young, three or four, and mispronounces it (i.e. Duck). The fic would follow their lives as the crup grows from a very energetic puppy and always getting into trouble, to an adult, to an older age when he has trouble with getting up onto the couch, etc. His black fur turns white on his face as he gets older.

Harry is determined to investigate why the school has gone frog mad, or why the country's frog have gone Hogwarts mad, and is accompanied by his unexpected mystery-solving partner - Draco Malfoy.

Additions: Maybe Draco and Harry learn to respect each other's intelligence via solving this frog crisis, and learn a bit more about themselves/their own direction in the process. Of course, they bicker and quarrel they entire time as well, and discreetly perve on each other's bums? : P

Scenario: Draco works in the Ministry of Magic as an assistant to the Keeper of the Hall of Prophecies. He has a pet Jarvey he takes it to work with him. His tasks are very mundane. Basically, he spends all day creating an inventory of what prophecy is where and which ones were destroyed during the Battle of the Department of Mysteries—which is easier said than done because the last time a proper inventory was done was ages ago. His job is dead boring and seemingly endless, but he doesn't mind it as much as the higher ups think because he gets to spend almost his entire day alone with no one spitting at him or telling him he belongs in Azkaban, and the way the Jarvey insults everyone who he does have to interact with amuses Draco, because he' like to tell all those people the same thing, but he can't. His life is going along smoother than he'd dared hope until, one day, he comes across a prophecy about Harry Potter and himself. Rather like a child picking at a scab, Draco can't resist viewing it. To say what he hears is unexpected is something of an understatement. Harry is an Auror, who typically avoids the Department of Mysteries like the plague, but a case he is investigating leaves him no other choice. He needs Draco's help.

Additions: No character bashing please. / Seeing the Jarvey, Harry mistakes it for an overgrown ferret, which after the incident in fourth year surprises him. He mentions that the Jarvey is the biggest ferret he's ever seen, and when Draco corrects him, Harry asks why he would have a pet Jarvey--because, really, who'd want a pet that insults you? The Jarvey tells Harry off very colorfully, and Draco pats it on the head and asks Harry if he's got any other questions.

Maybe, Harry and Draco are Auror partners and fight and/or bicker a lot and now Draco thinks he must appear weak/helpless to Harry and he hates it.

He's determined to get to the bottom of it. Draco, on the otherhand, is just trying to learn how to control his instincts and make it through the year without losing control. Which would be much easier if bloody Potter wasn't following him around everywhere looking and smelling good enough to eat.

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Horse

Scenario: Draco's Animagus Form is a horse (any breed you like). One day, he gets good and stuck in the mud. Cue panic and Harry rescuing him.

Additions: Harry takes the horse in as he can't find the owner, Draco grudgingly resigns to living as a horse while he figures this out (or risk death by utter mortification), someone (Ron) refers to Draco as a 'pony' which offends him deeply,

Era: Post Hogwarts

Maximum Rating: As high as you like

Prompt #104

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Dinosaurs, any

Scenario: Jurassic Park Wizard Version (all the different Jurassic movies and books are fair game for ideas). I'd like something really wild to happen where Death eaters (or Neo Death Eaters, whatever) try to take over. Can be based on the newest movie? Draco runs the park for his father or someone else, Harry trains the raptors (or other dinosaur, like to be surprised). Or Harry could be an auror on holiday there and tries to help Draco. Surprise me..

Additions: Harry and Draco have not seen each other since the war was over. Did not attend eighth year together. I would like Teddy to be there. The longer the story the better.

Era: Post DH, but not Epilogue compliant.

Maximum Rating: You can take it all the way to NC-17 baby..

Prompt #105 CLAIMED FOR FIC

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Furry Bush Viper

Scenario: Draco's animagus form is a furry bush viper. As an Auror, he's expected to use his gift as an undercover agent in several magical creature trafficking rings. Unfortunately, the missions are exhausting and he's just a small snake, so it's not really his fault if he occasionally falls asleep curled around Potter's shoulder/fingers/coffee cup.

Additions: Parseltongue, please!

Era: Post Hogwarts

Maximum Rating: As high as you like

Prompt #106 *Claimed for ART***

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Peacocks

Scenario: The Auror department decides to take a leaf out of the Muggle police force's book and use highly-intelligent, trained animals to help them fight crime. Imagine Harry's joy when faced with his new Auror Peacock which is going to accompany him on all missions in future. Not to mention its trainer, who just happens to be Draco Malfoy, peacock expert.

Additions: Lots of humour, please? The peacocks could actually be really useful and Harry might come round to the idea? Or, they could be shit and cause chaos : D. Either way, lots of snarkiness between H and D, please. ART for this would also be amazing.

Era: post-Hogwarts

Maximum Rating: NC-17

Prompt #107 *Claimed for FIC***

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Owl

Scenario: Harry is trying out either a dating service, or a lonely hearts ad in the Prophet. His potential suitors send messages by owl trying to woo him. The only problem is that he works with Draco, who keeps intercepting the owls and ripping the piss out of all of Harry's potential dates.

Additions: Draco is of course, jealous, which is why he tries to put Harry off all his suitors.

Maybe he also owls Harry himself (without revealing his true identity) and arranges to meet him on a date?

Era: Post-Hogwarts

Maximum Rating: NC-17

Prompt #108 *Claimed for ART***

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Giant Squid

Scenario: The Great Lake at Hogwarts is in danger. The creatures living in there are struggling/dying. Legend (an old book?) states that a similar thing like this happened hundreds of years ago and through magical intervention, the crisis was averted, but no record remains of what was done to protect the Lake. Harry is working on a solution and suspects the Giant Squid, as the oldest living creature in the Lake, may have some answers. He seeks help from Draco - an expert in Legilimency - to try to get the answers from the squid's memory.

Additions: Sexy diving gear (thigh wand holsters, anyone?), UST, kissing (or more? yes please) in the lake

Era: post-Hogwarts

Maximum Rating: NC-17

Prompt #109 *Claimed for FIC***

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Snake

Scenario: Draco has a pet snake. The snake is a key witness to a crime and needs to be interviewed by the Aurors... but there is only one Auror who is a Parselmouth.

Additions: Harry suspects Draco of being implicated in the crime at first? He was also present but was asleep / Stunned / under Imperio?

The snake likes the heat of Draco's body (has to be close to Draco for survival, as it is cold blooded?) and this leads to situations where Harry has to get closer to Draco than he might feel comfortable, especially as Harry has to keep eye contact while speaking to the snake. For example, speaking to the snake which is tucked inside Draco's half-open shirt. Draco is quite aware of the effect this closeness is having on Harry. But he wasn't expecting the effect that Harry speaking Parseltongue would have on him.

Maybe the snake likes Harry and thinks he and Draco should get together, which leads to further embarrassing situations when it discusses this with Harry.

Era: post-Hogwarts

Maximum Rating: NC-17

Prompt #110

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Lions

Scenario: After the war, Harry decides to travel the world and naturally, Africa is the first stop on the list. He finds an exiled Draco working with big cats in a wildlife sanctuary

Additions: Draco adores the lions and they love him too. Harry teasing Draco about how lions are 'as Gryffindor as you can get' and Draco just smirks because he knows how Slytherin those little cubs can really be. Take some inspiration from the film Born Free if you like.

Era: Post Hogwarts

Maximum Rating: As high as you like.

Prompt #111

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Ostriches

Scenario: The albino peacocks of Malfoy Manor have been Transfigured into screeching, flapping, vicious ostriches. Draco is trapped in his own home and it won't be long before those feathered monstrosities breach the defenses.

Additions: How did this happen? Was it a prank gone wrong? Someone taking revenge on Draco for the war? How is Harry involved- reluctant rescuer, innocent bystander or *gasp* maybe he did it! Seriously, the more ridiculous the plot, the better!

Era: Post Hogwarts

Maximum Rating: As high as you like

Prompt #112

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Pink Fairy Armadillo

Scenario: I DON'T CARE HOW OR WHY BUT SOMEHOW HARRY OR DRACO ADOPTED THIS 5-INCH ANIMAL.

Era: Any

Prompt #113

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Silver Fox

Scenario: A mysterious Robin Hood is on the prowl in the Magical World, stealing from wealthy purebloods and passing off his loot to those afflicted by the war. Auror Potter has been assigned to the case and he notices something strange. Every house/event/gala that was hit had one thing in common. A small silver fox had been seen prowling the grounds before the theft.

Additions: Is the Silver Fox Draco's animagus form or a familiar? Maybe Draco maintains his cover by being one of the first 'victims' of the burglaries so nobody suspects him?

Era: Post Hogwarts

Maximum Rating: As high as you like

Prompt #114 *Claimed for FIC***

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Huskies

Era: Post Hogwarts

Maximum Rating: G to NC-17

Prompt #115 *Claimed for FIC***

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Dragons

Scenario: Harry and Draco work with dragons. The dragons bond with their human carers to form a close, sometimes telepathic link. When the dragons mate (in the air), the humans experience the same sexual attraction through the bond. (This is based on Anne McCaffrey's Pern series, but you don't need any knowledge of the books for this prompt)

Additions: Quidditch on dragonback? Can be a total Pern crossover or you can just write something based on the above idea, without any knowledge of Pern. Dubcon due to the overwhelming feelings created when the dragons mate is FINE BY ME.

Era: Any

Maximum Rating: NC-17

Prompt #116 *Claimed for ART***

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Doe & Stag Patronus

Scenario: Draco's Patronus is a Doe, which would be embarrassing enough on its own, but of course Potter has to go and make things worse. Apparently his stag Patronus rather fancies Draco's doe, and Draco could really do without watching the bloody things get it on right in front of them.

Additions: Draco and Harry are Auror partners, Draco being flustered, Harry finding the whole thing hilarious and blatantly coming on to Draco.

Era: Post Hogwarts

Maximum Rating: NC-17

Prompt #117

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Any!

Scenario: Tired of being an outcast, Draco casts some sort of spell that's supposed to improve people's opinion of him. Unfortunately, something goes wrong, and instead attracting witches and wizards, every animal and pet in the vicinity is drawn towards Draco person. Which would be bad enough on its own, but some of the animals are rather large, dangerous, and....possessive. A few have also began taking certain liberties that Draco would really they rather didn't. Luckily there's a full-blown hero around who surely won't be able to resist saving the day.

Additions: erm, no actual bestiality, please! Harry being reluctantly drawn into helping Draco. Maybe they end up trapped in some closet together trying to escape an amorous Hippogriff, and things get a little heated?

Era: Eighth Year

Maximum Rating: NC-17

Prompt #118

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Any Magical Creature!

Scenario: Harry and Draco are after a Magical animal trafficking ring, rumored to be run by the same man who owns and operates a string of sex clubs--a wizard who's been on the Ministry's watch list for a half-dozen untraceable crimes. Harry and Draco are tasked with surveillance and getting close to the man if possible. Of course, he spends the majority of his time at his most popular sex club, and Harry and Draco are going to need to be convincing if they're to avoid raising his suspicion.

Additions: if you go the D/s route, I'd prefer Draco as the dommy one. Lots of communication and trust between Harry and Draco. A close partnership that quickly grows deeper. It'd be cool if maybe they don't have to do anything explicitly sexual while on the case, but of course, once they crack it wide open and they're alone, all that sexual tension finally comes to a head.

Era: Post Hogwarts, EWE

Maximum Rating: NC-17

Prompt #119

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Various

Scenario: Harry's accumulated quite the collection of magical animal tattoos over the past few years (phoenix, stag, dragon, owl, etc. -- up to you which animals exactly!) He's used to them moving around on his body as if they were alive, but he's pretty sure they aren't supposed to actually come to life. It's mildly unsettling when a snowy owl takes literal flight off his shoulder, but he's a little nervous about what will happen if the dragon on his thigh decides to step off his skin...

Additions: Up to you when/why the tattoos come to life, and how to stop it. Maybe Draco is the tattoo artist, or some kind of magic specialist called in to work on Harry's case. Do the tattoos stay gone once they come to life, or do they move back and forth? Could make great art!

Era: Post Hogwarts, EWE

Maximum Rating: NC-17

Prompt #120

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: "Teacup" Dragon

Scenario: Astoria leaves Draco, along with the baby teacup dragon she bought as a pet (on a whim) the week before. Said dragon is non-returnable and wreaks havoc on Draco's life and his possessions. Harry runs a exotic pet obedience training school.

Additions: Astoria gives the dragon a ridiculous name before leaving, and Draco is now stuck with it.

Era: Post-war (epilogue compliancy fine either way.)

Maximum Rating: Whatever floats your boat.

Prompt #121

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: The most absurd animagus form you can think of e.g. giraffe or sloths or whale or worm or banana slug

Scenario: The animagi animal form is not chosen by the wizard, but determined by their personality and inner traits. During Advanced Transfiguration, all interested students are given the chance to learn how to be an animagus. Harry and/or Draco found out that their animagus forms are COMPLETELY RIDICULOUS. Hilarity ensues.

Additions: what personality traits turn you into a whale or a platypus tho, think about it

Era: 8th Year or Hogwarts Era

Maximum Rating: G to NC-17

Prompt #122

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Any small, cute furry animal-kitten, puppy, crup etc.

Scenario: Harry gets custody of Teddy when Andromeda dies. Teddy is traumatized, stops talking and won't leave Harry's side. Hermione suggests getting Teddy a pet because she read pets can help traumatized children. Teddy becomes quickly attached to the pet. He starts whispering short sentences only to Harry and the pet, but never smiles. One day Harry takes Teddy and the pet to the park and the pet runs to someone sitting on a bench watching his son play. They go to retrieve the animal and suddenly the man stands up and starts yelling. Teddy's pet has just peed on Draco Malfoy's shoes. For the first time in weeks/months Teddy laughs. It's up to the writer how, but somehow Harry and Draco end up together.

Additions: Scorpius and Teddy bond over the pet. Draco ends up secretly liking the pet even though it still likes to pee on him. Snarky!Draco with a soft spot for children and eventually the pet.

Era: Post Hogwarts Partially epilogue compliant. Draco divorced and has custody of Scorpius. Harry has never married.

Maximum Rating: From G to NC-17

Prompt #123 *Claimed for FIC***

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: something in the Forbidden Forest (your choice, but centaurs don't count)

Scenario: Draco's had a hard time keeping a job after the war. He has a position at the Dept for Regulation and Control of Magical Creatures, but hears he's being transferred to the Centaur Liaison Office. That's a euphemism for getting fired (since "no centaur has ever used it"), but Draco is determined to take it seriously, and heads off to the Forbidden Forest to try to meet up with some centaurs. While there he runs across Harry who is investigating ... some creature in the forest.

Additions: Maybe Draco runs into trouble with the centaurs and needs Harry's help; maybe Firenze has a warning premonition but will only give it to Harry; maybe Draco learns something important but only Harry believes him; maybe Harry needs Draco's help with the creatures. Perhaps Hermione is working at the same Dept. as Draco- what does she think? I'd like Harry and Draco both to be reasonably competent.

Era: Post-war

Maximum Rating: anywhere from G - NC-17. Prefer a story, not PWP.

Prompt #124

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Phoenix

Scenario: H or D is having visions/dreams/visitations of a Phoenix. (Fawkes?) They need each other to figure out the significance.

Maximum Rating: anywhere from G - NC-17. Prefer a story, not PWP.

Prompt #125 *Claimed for FIC***

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Owl.

Maximum Rating: anywhere from G - NC-17. Prefer a story, not PWP.

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Giant Squid

Scenario: There's trouble with the Giant Squid at Hogwarts. Maybe it's acting up, or it's ill. Harry and Draco need to work together to solve the problems it's causing.

Additions: Maybe Harry is a professor at Hogwarts? Maybe years of seeing under the lake from the Slytherin windows gave Draco an interest in underwater creatures, and he has specialized in the study of underwater magic, but he hasn't been back to Hogwarts? Maybe Harry has to show Draco where the merpeople live, or give other advice based on his knowledge from the TriWizard Tournament?

Era: any

Maximum Rating: anywhere from G - NC-17. Prefer a story, not PWP.

Prompt #127 *Claimed for FIC***

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Wolf

Scenario: At Hogwarts, Teddy has been running off into the Forbidden Forest where he has befriended some wolves. Harry and Draco (as his godfather, cousin, perhaps professor) go into the forest to find him.

Additions: Up to you whether Teddy is lonely or rebellious or curious. The wolves are the highly intelligent and beautiful ones from the pack that Dumbledore let live in the Forbidden Forest. Their parents were werewolves who mated when in wolf form. (Info from Pottermore, and actually this is sort of an adaption of someone's unclaimed prompt from the Pottermore Fair last year.) Up to you what relations between Harry and Draco are like before the fic begins.

Era: Post-war, Teddy is Hogwarts age.

Maximum Rating: anywhere from G - NC-17 (for H/D). Prefer a story, not PWP. Teddy not sexually active.

Prompt #128

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Octopus/ Squid/ Any kind of Cephalopod (maybe even a magical variation)

Scenario: Auror!Harry is sent undercover to discover who it is that is kidnapping various expensive and rare snakes and why. What he finds is an extremely exclusive dance club where the strippers perform with said stolen snakes. Draco is one of the dancers.

Additions: Basically what I'm after here is naked or half-naked Draco wrapped in a snake. Sad, I know.

Era: Post-Hogwarts.

Maximum Rating: NC-17

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Animals or magical creatures that forms strong bonds such as wolves, thestrals, hippogriffs, elephants, orcas, dolphins, lions, foxes.

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Bee

Scenario: Fresh out of bee college, Draco finds the prospect of working with honey uninspiring and plebeian. On his first trip outside the hive, he's saved from certain death by a human florist named Harry. As their relationship blossoms, Draco discovers humans actually eat honey, and subsequently decides to sue them.

Additions: Draco saying "that's none of your beeswax"; evil bee overlord Voldemort

Era: ...Bee Movie AU

Maximum Rating: NC-17

Prompt #132

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Dog, plain old fashioned Dog

Scenario: To Draco complete consternation, Harry and Ron have discovered their animagus forms are both dogs. Not magical crups, but just plain old fashioned dogs. Harry's a mixed blend of you name it, he's probably got it. Ron's an over energetic Irish setter. The two of them love nothing better than going for a run each morning followed by a swim in the pond. Harry likes to follow this up by coming home and waking Draco by jumping in the middle of the bed with wet and muddy paws. Not to mention the overwhelming stench of wet dog, while said mutt is getting very frisky.

Additions: Draco and Hermione (or whomever you chose to partner with Ron, I'm okay with most anyone) scheming together to teach the other two to behave.

Era: 8th year or Post Hogwarts

Maximum Rating: NC-17 or wherever the story takes you

Prompt #133

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Dolphin

Terrified to change back, Draco becomes stuck in the middle of the ocean with an amorous and very randy dolphin. Harry engages the help of the local merpeople to free Draco.

Additions: Draco being more than a little curious about the possibilities, (though he does realise he's one sick puppy for thinking about, but still he can't stop.) Draco becoming genuinely fond of his pursuer and the other animals in the sea.

Era: Post Hogwarts

Maximum Rating: NC-17 or wherever the story takes you

Prompt #134

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: baby ducks, lots of baby ducks

Scenario: Harry and Draco have only recently started “keeping company”, otherwise known as “fucking like rabbits”, when Draco has the strangest dream. He is surrounded by small yellow fluffy ducklings. Each and everyone on of them are topped off with a crown of out of control, wild and black hair. While Potter, the utter bastard is passing out cigars to everyone he knows.

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: baby chickens

Scenario: After the war Draco decides he wants to live a simpler, less stressful life. He decides to take up rare, organic and free range chicken breeding. He's so over fraught with tension over his first batch of eggs he can't let them be. Watches them constantly, so that when the eggs finally start to hatch—he is the first thing the baby chicks see. Instant imprinting takes place and the baby chicks start to follow him everywhere. And I do mean everywhere interfering in the most inopportune moments. Harry just likes to sit back and watch Draco and his merry band of chickens.

Additions:

Era: Post Hogwarts

Maximum Rating: NC-17 is always good

Prompt #136

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Unicorn

Prompt #137

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Unicorn

Scenario: Teddy has been stung by an African bee. He is allergic to the bee stings, but because of the genes he inherited from his father, the poison is slow acting. Only the tears of a unicorn can save him. Rumours of a unicorn being seen send Harry hurrying to the Forbidden Forest in search for the elusive unicorn. Unicorns only ever shed tears for virgins. Luckily for Harry's godson that's not even an issue.

Additions: Harry's mortification, Draco's teasing, Harry teasing Draco for being a unicorn and not some horrid vicious animal.

Era: 8th year, or post Hogwarts.

Maximum Rating: Pg-13 –to R (higher would be okay too)

Prompt #138

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Dangerous creatures like werewolves or anything you can think of!

Additions: Fireside. Footprints in the snow.

Era: Any

Maximum Rating: Any

Prompt #140

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Hippogriffs

Scenario: Draco breeds and maybe races fancy hippogriffs. It looks like an acceptable if eccentric pastime for a young wizard of leisure and he is passionate about it, but he also took it up as a deliberate way to get a reputation as a dilettante. Draco now thinks his father's judgement is fundamentally flawed and he is determined that post-war the Malfoys will NOT pull all the ministry's strings through money alone; fancy hippogriffs are perfectly respectable but also a bit frivolous and not a suitable hobby for a statesman so Lucius' plans are undermined in a way that he can't object to.

When Harry comes across Draco again, he assumes he is still a spoilt rich kid with a ridiculous hobby, but they are thrown together - maybe hippogriffs are involved in a case - and he discovers Draco is more than that.

Additions: Maybe Draco's post-war interaction with hippogriffs started as a way of facing down his childhood fears or maybe he always knew how to deal with them in controlled circumstances, but thought Hagrid wasn't competent to handle them.

Era: post-Hogwarts or EWE

Maximum Rating: anything up to NC-17, first time preferred.

Prompt #141

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Ferret animagus

Scenario: When he learns the animagus transformation, Harry is mortified to discover he has a ferret animagus form, but it's useful for auror missions so he swallows the humiliation and uses it whenever needed. Fortunately auror animagus forms are confidential so only Ron teases him about it. Harry and Draco are casual acquaintances so there should never be a reason for Draco to find out. Only then something happens and he does. I'd prefer either first-time/ getting together or casual-friends-with-benefits becoming something more.

Additions: He doesn't like admitting it, but Harry actually enjoys being a ferret.

Era: post-Hogwarts, EWE,

Maximum Rating: anything up to NC-17

Prompt #142

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Ashwinders

Scenario: Draco has a business as a potion supplier and breeds ashwinders for their eggs. He operates from a very secure location, separated from any actual dwellings and the snakes are well cared for in the hour they are alive but people are uneasy because of the dangers and because of Draco's history. Either there are attempts to break in or malicious accusations against him. Harry is the auror on the case.

Additions: Ashwinder canon as per <http://harrypotter.wikia.com/wiki/Ashwinder> please!

Era: post-Hogwarts, EWE, could maybe be Epilogue-compliant

Maximum Rating: anything up to NC-17

Prompt #143

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Any magizoological creature which may not actually exist

Scenario: Luna persuades friends - now including Draco - to join her on an expedition to track down for a mythical creature that only she believes actually exists. Harry & Draco end up staking out somewhere very uncomfortable together for a prolonged length of time - think bird hides, wet cave, a ledge halfway up a cliff.

Additions: I can't decide if it would be more fun if the creature does exist or if it doesn't!

Era: post-Hogwarts

Maximum Rating: any G to NC-17.

Prompt #144

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Puffskeins

Scenario: When either Harry or Draco was pretty traumatised post-war, someone (probably Hermione or Narcissa) decided he needed to take some small responsibility for something else and gave him a puffskein because it was the most undemanding pet they could find. But it turned out to be good company and a very soothing pet and stroking and talking to it was as good as therapy. Now he has 3 or 4 pet puffskeins and regularly takes them to be petted and act as therapy animals for war-orphans or long-term St Mungo's patients. When the other one (Draco or Harry) finds out he thinks puffskeins are a ridiculous pet but in fact he's still in constant vigilance mode from the war and could do with some puffskein!therapy himself

Additions: anything you like!

Era: post-Hogwarts or 8th year

Maximum Rating: anything up to NC-17

Prompt #145

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: snakes, the boa constrictor from the zoo

Scenario: Harry is still a parselmouth and now has a pet snake or snakes. Not just small snakes either - one is the boa constrictor he set free from the zoo when he was eleven, now grown to an immense size. Most people find this unnerving. Draco is simultaneously frightened and fascinated - and after the war he swore he would never be ruled by fear...

Additions: Even an intelligent snake can't easily get to Brazil from the UK, but assuming it was still young when Harry freed it, it could easily live until Harry was 40 or 50.

Era: post-Hogwarts, EWE

Maximum Rating: R or NC-17 please!

Prompt #146

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Puppy

Scenario: Draco accidentally acquires a muggle puppy. He is living alone after Hogwarts, his parents are abroad and he is distrusted in the wizarding world so a puppy's enthusiasm and affection is just what he needs. But a dog needs walking and other dog-owners stop to chat. and a puppy needs training so obedience classes are the obvious next step, possibly followed by agility. Before he knows what is happening, he has muggle acquaintances and activities and even friends. When their paths cross again, Harry is sure something must be wrong...

Additions: I'm thinking of Draco doing something like this -

<http://www.thekennelclub.org.uk/activities/agility/> but just general training and getting to know other dog owners would be good too.

Era: post-Hogwarts

Maximum Rating: any G to NC-17.

Prompt #147 *Claimed for FIC***

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Dragons

Scenario: There's been a recent uptick in illegal dragon hide trading and Harry is tasked with going to a dragon sanctuary (or similar) to investigate. He bumps into an old acquaintance and as per usual, Malfoy is up to something and wearing some very expensive looking new boots...

Additions: At the discretion of the author/artist

Era: Post-Hogwarts EWE or Epilogue Compliant at author/artist's discretion

Maximum Rating: NC-17

Prompt #148

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Thestral Patronus

Era: Post-Hogwarts EWE

Maximum Rating: NC-17

Prompt #149

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Kneazle/Cat

Additions: Animagus!Draco

Era: Post-Hogwarts

Maximum Rating: NC-17

Prompt #150

Animal/Animal-shaped Form: Unicorns
