

2+2=4 :We All Have Equal Worth

It is a universal truth that  $2+2=4$ . Your worth has absolute value like  $2+2=4$ .
Just like  $2+2$  with ALWAYS equal 4, your value can never change for any reason.
ALL PEOPLE have equal value, although we are all unique and very different.

Culture gives the illusion that we obtain our worth from what we can and cannot do, how we look, the abilities we have and the accumulation of fame or wealth.

This illusion causes some people to act like they have more value (As if  $2+2=8$ , when it does not)
OR feel they have less value (As is  $2+2=0$ , when it does not).

The truth will set you free. When you know that you have equal value to everyone else in the entire world, then you will no longer feel offended by those who have the delusion that they are superior to you. You will understand that although they think they are superior, you know better and have peace and joy within yourself because you know that we are all different but have equal value.

This is not to say that your life quality may not be effected by the choices you make. But life quality and life value are not the same thing.
