Lady Gadget and Kim Six
Blogger Support Badges

We have two different badge codes. You're welcome to pick your preference. We seek to dispel the rumors going around that Blogger is not self-hosted, cannot be monetized, and other rumors like this. We DO own our content and Blogger cannot shut our blogs down any time they want. The ONLY exceptions are if a blog violates the TOS rules. We do work with ad companies and we do have contact with google concerning updates. We seek to grow our community strong and build a good relationship with google to revive and rebuild blogger to its full potential. Please use these buttons to share the news and help others on Blogger receive the support they are looking for.

1st option (sizing in coding):

Been looking for Tech and SEO support for Google's Blogger? Click above to join the growing FB community I'm part of! Share and spread the word: CLICK TO GRAB CODE!

Instructions:

1. Copy entire code and paste in a notepad document.
2. Blue: Highlight, copy, and paste this section of code in a new browser tab. Right click image and save with title: LadyGadget and Kim Six Blogger Tech and SEO Support Badge.png (you can copy and paste this). Save to your computer.
3. Upload your image into a new blog post in blogger, saved in draft with title (Blogger Support Badge). Do not publish. Switch to html side.
4. Copy the url code ending in .png in between quotes. Replace the blue section in your notepad with this code.
5. Copy entire code and paste into a blogger HTML widget in your sidebar. Save. You may have to unlock the widget in the code by adding mobile='yes' to the widget code inside the template if you are on a blogger based template. Enjoy your new badge! Don't forget to join our Facebook group for loads of helpful Blogger info and hired support. =)

Customization options:
Change font size, change color code, change height and width of badge (need to be the same)
