Black History Month Opportunities

Readers:

We are looking for students who would be willing to read a picture book for Black History Month! Please fill out the form below to let us know of your interest. We will record the reading and send it out over the written portion of the announcements for our community to listen to. These will be books that are written by African American authors or have African American characters. Additionally, some of the books will cover prominent African Americans from the past and present. This opportunity is open to all

Granger students who might be interested.

Living Museum:

We are looking for students who would be willing to participate in our Black History Month Living Museum Project. Please fill out the form below to let us know of your interest. Students will research a prominent African American from past to present. After researching, students will prepare a short presentation. On the day of the museum, students will come, dressed in character, and ready to present. Third grade students from Brooks Middle School will be our audience for the museum. Students will also present the living museum in the evening for their parents. This opportunity is open to all

Granger students who might be interested.
