Dear Members of the Cornell Board of Trustees,

Ongoing attacks on American universities threaten bedrock principles of a democratic society, including rights of free expression, association, and inquiry. In light of this unprecedented assault, we urge Cornell's leadership to do three things:

1. Continue to publicly condemn attacks on universities.

2. Legally contest and refuse to comply with unlawful demands that threaten academic freedom and university self-governance. Freedom from political interference has allowed American universities to lead the world in scientific, medical, and artistic innovation, as well as humanistic and social scientific research, from which our entire country benefits.

3. Work with other universities and Cornell's own alumni networks to mount a coordinated opposition to these anti-democratic attacks.

Signed,

1. Peter Katzenstein, Walter S. Carpenter Professor, Jr. of International Studies; President of the American Political Science Association (2008-09)
