SL: How I made readers "binge" my emails for 90 mins straight.

As crazy as this sounds,

There is a way to turn your emails into "bingeable content" that hooks readers for over 90 mins straight.

You don't even need to change your writing style…

All you do is simply add this "magic timer" to your next email and watch as your readers go on a marvel-movie-like journey, binging one email after another.

- Trains your readers to click your emails more,
- Passively white-listing your brand so you're always at the top of their inbox
- And most importantly, warm readers up for sales.

This literally got my readers thanking me for sending them sales emails.

SL: The worst thing you will read as a new copywriter.

Picture this:

You landed the perfect client.

"This client is worth millions" you tell yourself as you draft your best discovery project yet.

Hours spent perfecting every word to flow like a melody.

Just to be greeted the next day with a zero open rate.

Your hard effort and perfect emails sent straight in "spam"

This is reality for 99% of new copywriters.

But there is a simple way to reverse this.

Imagine having a "Time travel button" that GUARANTEES every one of your emails get sent straight to the TOP of their inbox.

How would your clients react? What would your income be?

I call this game changing strategy "The Time Travel CTA"

And I'll be sharing it ONLY for the next 100 people who click on this link.

SL: Why I nearly QUIT COPYWRITING.

Months spent studying my niche just for it to all slip away…

Fresh out of HU - I took my new found skills as a copywriter and stormed the scene.

Writing free copy for at least 100 influencers in my niche, until finally reaching the top:

A fitness influencer with 47 million subscribers begging to be sold to.

As I sent him my finest welcome sequence yet, tossing and turning in bed waiting for the results.

I was greeted with an email that chilled my bones:

"Hey, Khaled. Umm… I don't think you are at that level yet. None of your emails were opened"

As he wished me "good-luck" deep sorrow crept in.

"I've spent hours sitting at my desk, away from my wife and kids, for this?!"

But I was determined.

As I browsed through youtube for inspiration, a life changing idea struck me.

"People binge hours of content on youtube. Why can't they BINGE MY EMAILS TOO?"

From there, the idea of the "Parallel welcome sequence" emerged.

I took this new strategy and re-sent it to my client.

Fast forward 1 month – 52k PER WEEK are still being wired to to account.

JUST from this 1 EMAIL SEQUENCE.

And I'll be sharing it ONLY with the first 100 copywriters who click this link - after that I will delete it.
