

Cowish

By crawford

Long ago all living things were created in 3 days on the first day Cows and Chickens were made. On the second day humans, turtles, and fish were made. On the third day earth was made. One cow named Jake believed if you dedicated your life to helping others when you die you would enter The Field. The Field was a story in which it always had green grass, Shining sun, Blue sky, and Mystical forests. Jake one day thought to himself about his idea of life and death would bring world peace. He decided to travel to Grass Grove, the capital of the Farm Empire, on his way there he met an old chicken named Andy. Jake and Andy decided to travel to Grass Grove together and when night fell Jake told Andy his beliefs on life and death. Andy thought Jake's beliefs were right and decided to stay with Jake on his adventure. While traveling they discussed rules if anyone else joins them. Once joined you may not abandon the religion, If you commit a crime against some of the same species it is a crime to god. When you die, if you don't sin you will reach The Field.

Andy decided that he would spend the rest of his life sharing the words of this new religion to those who are lost and afraid in life. As Jake reaches Grass Grove and he steps up to the wooden gate He is stopped by two guards with steel boots, steel helmets, and a steel chest. Jake was instantly stopped and the commander of the Grass Grove guards said "no one may enter until the city bandit is captured. Jake is told to wait in line with everyone else, Jake takes this opportunity to preach to everyone in line as the whole city is in line. He starts to have people walk up to him and listen, word of Jake's beliefs spread around and reaches the king of Grass Grove. The king of Grass Grove is infuriated by Jake's growing popularity. Jake continues preaching to the city and eventually the king's seething anger reaches its breaking point and orders all of the guards to hunt him down and execute him publicly. The guards capture Jake and bring him to the town square, people riot to free him but none succeed, Jake is stabbed by the king and the crowd begins to sit down and pray for Jake's spirit. Andy returns to find Jake's body lifeless he grabs the body of his friend in a before they could take him to the palace, and bolts for the Kingdoms gate, the King shouts "CLOSE THE GATE AND DON'T LET HIM GET AWAY!". Andy dodges guards left and right and escapes before the gate could close, he runs to a nearby pond known for healing abilities. Andy digs a grave for Jake and leaves him there for 5 months, people continue Jake's religious traditions and everyone doesn't eat for 2 weeks like Jake couldn't eat when he walked through the desert to reach Grass Grove.

One night at midnight the Goddess Chickina brings Jake out of the underworld into the mortal world for 12 hours, Jake runs to town to preach before his time is up but he is stopped, by the God of the Underworld Bullic who is mad that the he was let out and attempts to drag him back but Jake kicks him and runs to the city for last time. Jake stands up on the stage where he was killed and yells "I have returned from the underworld to tell you the truth of death". No one can believe their eyes, He begins to say "When you die, everything you have done is recorded and if you do something good you get good points, when you do something bad you get points taken." Everyone begins to ask questions but as the bell rings to signal its noon, and the sun shines brighter than ever before, Jake is gone. He disappeared in a blink of an eye, everyone goes home to prepare a big feast at the stage as a memory of him. The feast becomes a holiday for his believers and is known as the Borah banquet.
