Who I am

My name is Raymond Aster and I have always adored the process of connecting with things beyond my understanding. Over half a decade ago, I discovered how to foster that connection through tarot and oracle card readings. Since then, one of my favorite pastimes has become finding new ways to use my cards to clarify and amplify spiritual messages in every possible context. Through this, I have found joy, connection, and truth that surpassed all my expectations and endowed me with unending appreciation for all the vibrant and abundant ways that energy manifests in my life. I would love the opportunity to express my gratitude to the magic that has transformed my life by sharing it with anyone who wants it. As such, I would like to offer you one of my readings as a gift.

What I Do

My general procedure is to first take the name of the person I'm reading for and any information/questions they have for me and spend some time acquainting myself with that energy. Some people don't feel comfortable giving any additional information or are just looking for a general vibe check kind of reading, whereas some people are very specific about the people or scenarios that they want to have addressed. Either way, I just take whatever I'm given and spend some time sitting with that energy and noting any impressions, associations, or emotions that arise from that. I often also confer with my spirit team and/or the guides of that individual to see if either of those sources have any additional guidance on the situation or how to address it.

After that, I sit down with my cards and record the reading itself. For that portion, I frequently utilize a variety of different frameworks for understanding and expounding on the situation as I see it. Some of my favorite ways to channel and explain energy in readings include using storytelling, art, and scientific theories as metaphorical vehicles that can be clarified and refined with the cards. If there is a specific one of those methods that someone feels drawn to, I'm almost always happy to accommodate that request. I have examples of these different styles on my page and am happy to link specific examples if you're curious about any of that.

Overall, I try to be as flexible as possible when it comes to personal readings because I want people to feel like they're getting both what they want and what they need. For some people, that means having me go in without any prior knowledge to explain the situation from that position. Other people prefer for me to have as much of a complete understanding as possible of the situation before addressing it. I understand the logic of both positions and am happy taking on the reading in whatever manner is most comfortable to the person receiving the reading. Allowing a reader the chance to access and interpret your energy can be a vulnerable thing, and I try to honor my role as a reader by approaching that energy in whatever way feels most respectful and authentic to that individual.

How to Receive a Reading

Always remember to check in with your intuition/guides before receiving a reading from anyone, and only take what resonates! If you're still interested, feel free to send me an an email at aster.of.none@gmail.com with the following information:

- Your name
  - I do not need your full legal name, just the first name, nickname, or screen name that you associate most strongly with your authentic self.

- Any specific things you would like addressed in your reading
  - Sometimes the cards end up showing us what we need rather than what we want, but if there are specific questions/energies/scenarios/people that you are seeking clarity on, please feel free to include those as well and I will try to make sure they are addressed.

What This Costs

If you have the means and the desire once your reading is complete, you're welcome to send me some feedback or leave me a tip as a thank you. However, no reading comes with any obligation or expectation to do either of those things.

- Feedback
  - aster.of.none@gmail.com
  - @aster_of_none on TikTok

- Tips
  - Venmo: @aster_of_none
  - Cashapp: $asterofnone

Important Disclaimer

These readings are intended strictly for the purposes of entertainment and spreading positivity. Tarot and spirituality can be powerful tools for reflection and transformation, but they are not substitutes for professional guidance nor should they replace the advice of doctors, therapists, and other qualified professionals. Please always use discernment, wisdom, and all available factual knowledge to inform your decisions. If a reading doesn't feel right for you, you never have to accept or act on it.