Abstract

[Provide a self-contained abstract of 150-250 words. State the purpose, method, principal findings, and contribution without citations or identifying information. Delete this instruction before submission.]

[Insert the abstract here.]

Keywords: [Provide 3-5 keywords, separated by semicolons]

Recommended manuscript length: 6,000-10,000 words. Continuous line numbering is enabled for the anonymized manuscript section.

Introduction

[Establish the context and research problem, identify the relevant gap, explain the study's contribution, and state the research objective or question. Delete this instruction before submission.]

[Insert the introduction here.]

Literature Review and/or Hypothesis Development

[Develop the theoretical foundation and synthesize relevant literature. Present hypotheses or propositions when appropriate to the study design. Adapt the heading for qualitative, conceptual, review, or other suitable approaches.]

[Insert the literature review and, where applicable, hypothesis development here.]

Research Methods

[Describe the research design, setting, population or data source, sample and sampling procedure, measures or instruments, data collection, analytical procedures, and relevant ethical safeguards. Provide enough detail to support evaluation and replication.]

[Insert the research methods here.]

Results

[Report the findings clearly and in a sequence that follows the research objective, question, or hypotheses. Place tables and figures close to their first discussion and refer to each one in the text.]

[Insert the results here.]

Tables and Figures

[Place every table and figure within the manuscript near its first mention. Number them consecutively, cite each one in the text, and delete all instructional text and unused examples before submission.]

Tables. Place the table number and a concise title above the table. Use an editable Word table, simple horizontal rules, and no decorative shading. Keep all entries legible, define abbreviations in a note, and provide a source below every table.

Table 1. [Concise table title]

Variable	Value	Statistic
[Item 1]	[00.00]	[0.000]
[Item 2]	[00.00]	[0.000]
[Item 3]	[00.00]	[0.000]

Source: [Specify the data source or state: Authors' analysis / Authors' calculation.]

Source/Credit: [Complete if the figure is adapted or reproduced.]

Discussion

[Interpret the findings in relation to the research question, theory, and prior studies. Explain the scholarly contribution without repeating the Results section.]

[Insert the discussion here.]

Conclusion

[Provide a concise answer to the research objective. State the theoretical and practical implications, limitations, and directions for future research.]

[Insert the conclusion here.]

Generative AI Use Disclosure

[Select one statement. If generative AI was used substantively, complete all disclosure fields. Delete the unused option and this instruction before submission.]

- ☐ No generative AI tool was used to produce substantive scholarly content in this manuscript.
- ☐ Generative AI tools were used as supporting technology in preparing this manuscript.

Tool/service	[Name of tool or service and version, if known]
Purpose and extent of use	[Explain how and why the tool was used]
Affected tasks or sections	[Identify the relevant tasks or manuscript sections]

☐ I/We confirm that all AI-assisted outputs were reviewed and verified by the human authors. The authors remain fully responsible for the accuracy, originality, citations, interpretations, and conclusions presented in the manuscript. Generative AI tools cannot be listed as authors.

References

[Format all in-text citations and references according to APA 7th Edition. Use a reference manager where possible. Arrange entries alphabetically and apply a 0.5-inch hanging indent. Delete this instruction before submission.]

[Insert the reference list here. Apply the FOKBIS Reference style to each entry.]

Appendix or Supplementary Material

[Optional. Include only material necessary to support the manuscript. Upload extensive supplementary files separately through OJS when appropriate. Delete this section if it is not used.]

[Insert appendix or supplementary material here, if applicable.]
