

Hi Marko,

I saw your tweet recently, and I like your perspective on people saying " you are broke because of chipotle" . It's literally the worst advice you could give. People just don't see the big factors that keep them broke and complains it on 8$ burrito.

I found your content interesting so I dug deep into your content.

I was looking at your website and I came up with this idea to take your business to the next level.

So, I went ahead and wrote this website description.

And for the surprise it is completely free.

Do you want me to send it over?

Brook
