Subject: My career was almost over...

In one moment, life gives you a chance.

I had finally started making a good amount of money as a football player.

Years of struggling and hard work were finally paying off in the form of thousands of dollars wired to my bank account.

I helped my team to stay in first place on the leaderboard for a year, gaining respect every day from them, fans, and even my competitors.

Do you want to know how I made it?

In one day, I was given a chance...

I found out that my coach had signed a contract with a young superstar who was going to play in my position. I realized that I could start watching the games from the sidelines.

In a moment like this, I had two options.

I could either give up, let him be dominant in my position, and gain all the respect,

Or I could use him as a chance to become a better midfield football player and finish his whole career.

The choice was mine.

Thankfully, I had just made a list of all the techniques that legendary midfield football players used to become professionals. A list that actually helped me to improve my game and get to the top level.

And now, this is your moment when life gives you a chance.
