TUCA COSPLAY LOOK-BOOK

Character:
Tuca Toucan

Series:
Tuca & Bertie

Creator:
Lisa Hanawalt

Cosplayer:
Megan Garcia

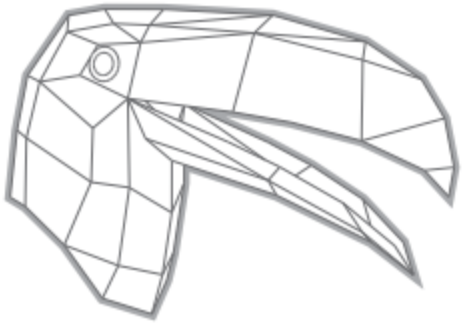

Total Time:
12 hours

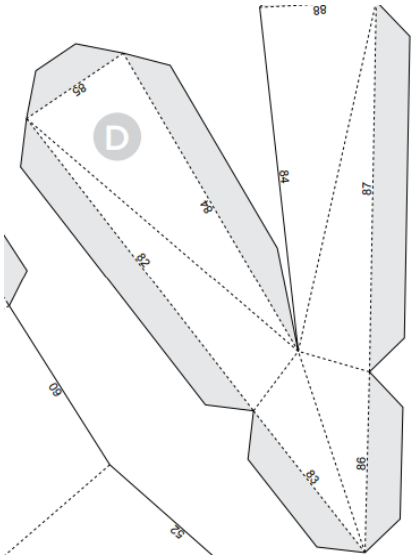

Tuca is known in the show for being talkative, energetic, and often speaking her mind without hesitation.

Therefore, We will start with the head.

Mask Designer: Steve Wintercroft
Obtained from: Etsy PDF
Materials: Cardboard, Hotglue, Paint

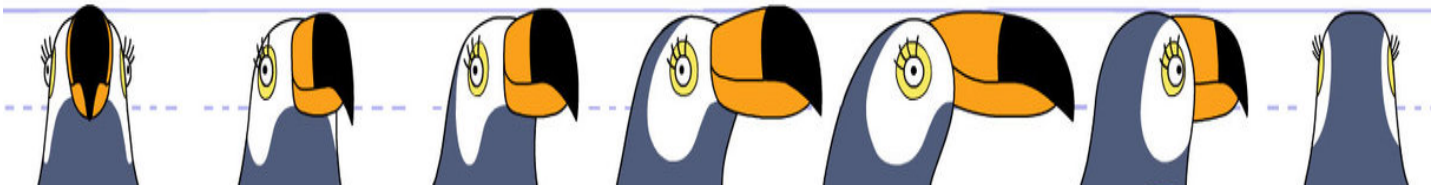

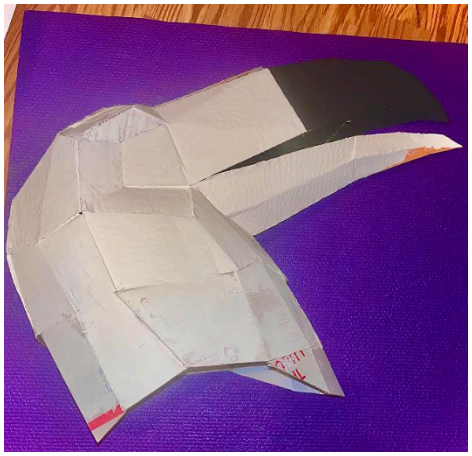

The 2D toucan head is made into a wearable 3D geometric design by Steve Wintercroft on Etsy.

Each panel is made with numbered sides and tabs that must be folded and then glued to the corresponding numbered edge.

Once the head is put together it is painted with black, white, orange, yellow, and navy blue according to the pattering on this character turnaround:

- Head base painted with white paint. The black beak tip is also added.
- Detail added around eyes
- Eyes are 1.5” Creatology™ Wiggle Eyes
- The rest of the head is painted navy blue.

Tuca is body*-ody-ody!* That is to say she looks good for a canonically 32 year old toucan. (Toucans can be up to 30 years old in captivity.)

Materials: Open Face Zentai Suit/Bodysuit,
Invisible zippers, Fake press-on nails,
Tank Top,
Green Shorts

I modified the arms and hands of the suit.

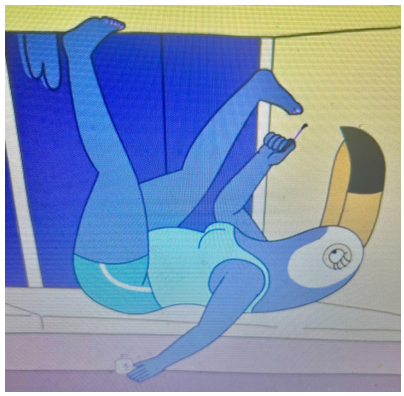

Hand-Sewing I added to both seams of the arms an invisible zipper so that I could have access to my hands.
And to all fingers I used super glue to add fake nails to give the cosplay a more lifelike look.
(I also shortened the length of the pinkies on both hands.)

The bodysuit is navy blue and from an online retailer

imPress Color
016 Never Too Navy

(Seen here she is painting her toenails so she's gotta have hand-nails lol)

The tank top and shorts I either had on hand or were found elsewhere.

Shirt
(Already owned)

Shorts*
(*updated/bought at walmart)

SHOES

Tuca has orange sneakers.

Materials: Canvas sneakers, Shoelaces, Paint

This is how the shoes looked when I got them (as a gift from my husband).

They are orange platform sneakers (to add a little height to the cosplay).

I then painted the toe box orange and changed the shoelaces to white ones and laced them into bars