

The Resume of one Myst Jefferson Delacruz, known colloquially as Jeff.

Personal Life

Jefferson Delacruz is what appears to be a mass of multi-colored and ever changing strings (for lack of a better term) forming the shape of a body. A former contestant on 'Jeffpeordy: Jeff across Dimensions Battle Royale', Delacruz comes from Peru (or at least first appeared on the Immaterial plane there). Xa eventually traveled to Philadelphia to sample it's many "SCRUMPTIOUS SUBMARINE SANDWICHES KNOWN LOCALLY AS THE HOAGIE" in fer words.

Delacruz is particularly committed to being as professional as possible, both on and off the field of Blaseball. He is always wearing a cheap business suit carrying business cards for seemingly everyone but zerself. When not playing baseball, Delacruz, or Myst Delacruz as they are known in the profession, is a food critic with xer own personal blog. When jae goes out to review a restaurant, Delacruz always arrives perfectly on time but has been known to leave behind parts of himself. Once finished at the restaurant, Delacruz will then spend a considerable amount of time writing the review for the restaurant. The blog is quite ordinary, both in content and appearance. However when summarizing or rating the food, Delacruz will use adjectives like oblosity, spalout, and football.

Most peculiarly, no one has claimed to see Delacruz actually eat food. An account by Eduardo Woodman, describes witnessing Delacruz approaching a freshly baked pie, covering it with her strings, and after several moments of alarming noises retracting the strings revealing the pie, tin and all, has disappeared. Woodman decided against inquiring any further.

The Philly Pies

The Nullification

On Day 79 of Season 24, the Philadelphia Pies were playing the Yellowstone Magics in Tastycake Stadium. During the Bottom of the 4th, Delacruz stepped up to bat and scored a 6 run home run activating the Black Hole (Black Hole). The Black Hole (Black Hole) became agitated, and nullified the Philly Pies.

While some may have seen this as an accident, or as an inevitable outcome of the Black Hole (Black Hole)'s existence, later interviews with Delacruz revealed it was actually on purpose. According to zem, xer favorite Hoagie Joint in Philly NAME REDACTED had recently been closed down, depriving Delacruz of "the most Oblost meatball in the city. With the cheese melted right on the Hoagie Roll and everything". Thus Delacruz had to blow up all of blaseball. He did apologize, stating that while their actions were reasonable, they were unprofessional for a workplace environment.