Lori Kampa

Lori is a Certified Integrative Nutrition Health Coach, Wellness Educator, Business Coach and Owner of Mindful Health and WorkshopsDone.com.

Health coaches from all over the world have contacted Lori to discover her secrets to building a successful full-time health coaching business. She always shares that the backbone of her business growth is having successful Wellness Workshops. She founded WorkshopsDone.com, a done-for-you immersion program designed to walk health coaches through all the details they need to book workshops, fill workshops, sell during workshops, and follow up after workshops. She offers her health coach colleagues the opportunity to be guided with her detailed instruction and to put their name and logo on her handouts, PowerPoint presentations, worksheets, and more.

Lori is a graduate of the Institute for Integrative Nutrition. In addition, she has a BS degree in Psychology and Business.

Lori believes in working smarter, not harder. Why re-create the wheel when someone else has already invented it...and perfected it? For more information on Lori, please visit workshopsdone.com/meet-your-coach.
