

Point of view: Readers point of view

The reader's personal point of view affects how he/she interprets ideas, opinions and issues in a text. Discuss your point of view on the following ideas/issues. Then consider how your point of view on these ideas/issues has influenced your interpretation of the text.

| Example from text                                                             | My point of view | Influence on my response to the text |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------|--------------------------------------|
| Males and females are fit only for certain jobs.                              |                  |                                      |
| People such as knights are needed to look after women, children and the weak. |                  |                                      |
| It is natural and right that some people are wealthy and others poor.         |                  |                                      |
| Religion helps people to transcend the drudgery of existence.                 |                  |                                      |
| Good will always prevail.                                                     |                  |                                      |
