2021 Week Without Driving

"Here was the intersection where the pavement was rainy and slick with leaves. There was the area where a road diet had led to better bus service..." Councilmember Tammy Morales in Real Change News.

"A lot of people discovered how crappy public transportation actually is. And this crappiness is no accident. It is made to be that way." Charles Mudede in The Stranger

"“As a policymaker, it showed me really how this has to change,” [State Rep. April] Berg said. ”This is just me trying it for a week, but for folks who live it we have to do better.” During the legislative session next year, she said, she will seek increased transit funding and more money to build crosswalks and sidewalks." Everett Herald.
