

Step #3: Digital Exhibit

Introduce Curation Tool: Google Sites

Exhibit Title/Header Image/Overview:

Synthesize the information about your tribe by providing an exhibit title, header image, and a well written introduction to the exhibit connecting the items curated to the history and culture of the tribe.

Exhibit Items:

You will need to curate a minimum of 8 and a maximum of 16 items in your digital exhibit, representing at least 8 of the categories researched. For each of the items in the exhibit, you must include a hyperlink to the item, an image of the item, a title for the item, and a brief description of how the item highlights a specific aspect of the tribe's history, culture, and/or contemporary life. Mix it up: Text, images, video, audio, interactive, etc. Vary your selection! Evaluate your resources to ensure if they are reliable, relevant, and accurate.

For each statement, assess your digital curation project on a 1-5 scale.

Group	Teacher	Header
		Includes a creative exhibit title that incorporates the tribe's name as well as the overarching theme that ties the exhibit together.
		Header image provides a visual representation of the digital exhibit.
		Exhibit overview provides an introduction to the exhibit connecting the items curated to the history and culture of the tribe.

Group	Teacher	Exhibit Items
		There are at least 8 exhibit items representing different aspects of the tribe's history and culture.
		Item titles incorporate a specific category of research: geography and location, history, beliefs/ceremonies, language, food, homes, music/dance, clothing, modern day, or government.
		Items are organized in a logical way for others to learn about your tribe.
		Item descriptions highlight a specific aspect of the tribe's history, culture, and/or contemporary life.
		Items are good examples of using a variety of multimedia.
		The items presented seem accurate and reliable.

Group	Teacher	Overall Exhibit
		The finished exhibit is an effective way to learn about the history and culture of the tribe.

Reflection in History NB:

1. Tell me about working on this assignment. How did your group divide the work? How well did you work together?
2. How confident are you about the material you researched?
3. What did you like/dislike about this assignment?
4. How did your work compare to your classmates?
5. Describe 2-3 new things you learned as a result of this digital curation project. Consider your own research and group project as well as the other projects you discovered during the gallery walk.
