Intro

This item will revolutionize the way you live every time you go traveling. It makes your travel experiences twice as easy and enjoyable.

Email

This item has the best graphics overall. When you are trying to make memories overseas with your family/friends and your phone dies.

Then how can you record or take photos of all the stuff used to get up to what you can do and share your experiences...

With this item you can have a strap around the front of you over your shoulder to carry it when you are not using it.

Image right if you go to visit a country for holidays and you bought this item. You could make some more money if you need to plus you can get a good adventure and memories to look back on.

If it dies on you just take a couple of AA batteries with you, and it has in one memory card it has 16GB of storage (close to 4,000 photos) that is just one memoires and the memory card costs nine-teen dollars each for another one.

look when you write your copy every single line should serve a purpose. This DIC email is bad because you are teasing the item, not the dream. You are saying "Imagine THE AAA batteries" rather you should be saying "Imagine captivating the best moments that life has provided for you"
