

Week 9: Doubt and Deconstruction with Wesleyan Beliefs

1. What comes first, our obedience to God, or His faithfulness to us?
This question forms your view of grace and therefore your view of Wesleyan theology.
2. Is your heart growing warmer towards God?
3. Do you want your life and motives to be fully known? By God? By anyone? Who?
4. What do you think God would want to change if your life and motives were fully known by Him?
5. Have you felt the work of the Holy Spirit in you? How?
6. How can you re-direct after a mistake? Is it possible?
7. Is true faith seeing? (Look up Hebrews 11:1, if not familiar)
8. If others were to write an account of the personal holiness they see in you, what would it say?
9. If our collective life goal as Christians is a life that looks like the life of Jesus, how then can the church be so diverse?
10. Who or what community is drawing you nearer to a full life? How do you know? How does it make you feel?
