SL: Joelle, are you a good yoga teacher?

Hi Joëlle!

Our health is the essential thing in our life journey.

Can I add another line here that connects with the line below? Or should I instead just delete it?

I was searching for yoga exercises to relax after a ton of work. Watching your video was a fantastic experience.

You explained every step doing the exercise very clearly, making me understand it on the first try.

I've read your email about the free yoga challenge and liked how you presented it.

However, It makes the reader lose hope in solving their problem because there is no intrigue and Curiosity in the email.

If done correctly, it could build a better engagement with your audience, and they would get better results from your message, so whenever you want to sell anything, they'll already be ready to buy.

I will help you to grow trust with your audience.

That's why I've made an Instagram post copy for you. 📌

Before checking my piece of art, I'm Jaka.

An everyday writer and a man who loves understanding people on a much deeper level.

Give me your thoughts on it.

Take care, Jollie.
