

HōM Members!
About those Pesky,
Automated Course Reminders
in your inbox!

Here's the question I got recently:

How can I close the tons of incomplete courses in that email without going into each and every class and clicking complete & continue on every lesson?

Debra's answer: You can't AND You Don't Need To!

How about, as a member, you turn off this automatic Notification from Thinkific?

The Notification is an effective tool in many schools around the world that use Thinkific but it is not helpful for our Members. (It can be helpful for our A La Carte students, though!)

Why oh why is it there?

Since Members are enrolled in All Classes in the Library, the Automatic-Notification will give each Member a huge, full report on the full library. Argh! So best to turn it off!

Here's how to turn your Weekly Notifications off:

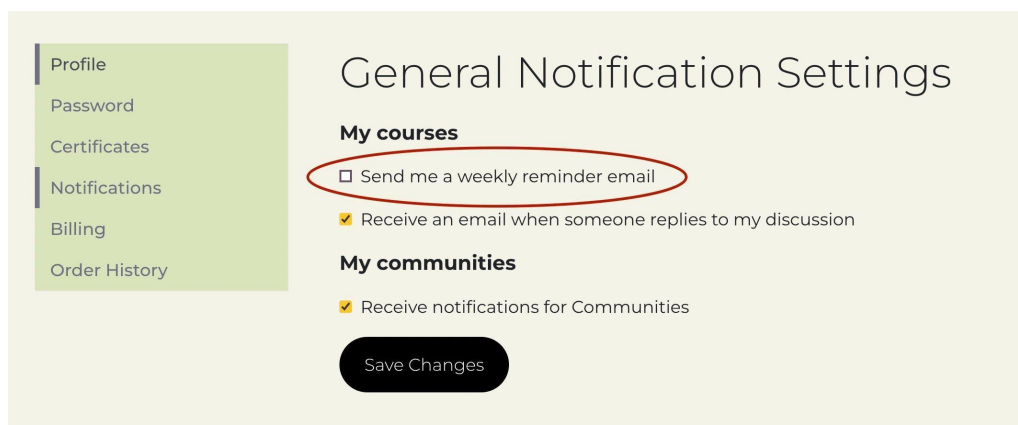

Click on your name in the upper right corner of your screen

Click on My Account

Click on Notifications on the left side of your screen

Click on "Send me a weekly reminder email" to UNCHECK that box (see image below)

Click on SAVE CHANGE!

Warmest regards,

Debra
