

Faculty Recommendations/Dispositions Required for Teacher Admissions

Effective March 2021, students requesting admittance into any Professional Educator Program will be required to have one faculty recommendation on file, instead of three. The additional dispositions will be collected and reviewed throughout the students' clinical experiences and student teaching semester.

- Instructors in the introductory courses (EDU 250, SMED 101, or AGED 250) will complete this teacher admission recommendation for their students each semester.
- If a student transfers to WKU and has already completed the equivalency of EDU 250, SMED 101, or AGED 250 at another college or university then the WKU School of Teacher Education instructor who has that student in class during their first semester at WKU will be asked to complete the recommendation.
- If a student completed EDU 250 in high school as a dual credit course, then the WKU School of Teacher Education instructor who has that student in class during their first semester at WKU will be asked to complete the recommendation.
