

Driver: Hello officer.

Police: Hey are you ok?

Driver: I think so. My back and neck are pretty sore though.

Police: I bet. It looks like you were in a bad accident.

Driver: I know. The accident happened so fast.

Police: Can you tell me what you remember?

Driver: Yes. I was going through the green light, when all of a sudden I saw a pickup truck crash into me.

Police: Do you know what kind of truck it was?

Driver: Yes, I do. It was a red Dodge..... I think it was a Dodge Ram.

Police: I see. Do you remember seeing the license plate?

Driver: No, I didn't see the license plate. Did the truck drive away?

Police: Yes. We will look for it. Have you ever been in a crash before?

Driver: No, I haven't. What will happen to me?

Police: Well, first we will make sure you have medical care. After that we will write up a police report and file it with your insurance company.

Driver: Ok. Do you think I will have to pay to have my car fixed?

Police: You will have to call your insurance company. How fast were you driving?

Driver: I think I was going about 35mph.

Police: Ok. Do you know what the speed limit is here?

Driver: About 30?

Police: Yes, so you were speeding, but not too much. Were there any other cars around that may have seen the Dodge truck?

Driver: Yes, there is a man over there who saw it all happen. He is waiting to talk to you.

Police: Ok. Wait here for the ambulance to come. I will talk to that driver.

Driver: Thanks officer!

Police: No problem.
