Introduction

Begin your paper with an introduction that clearly outlines the purpose of the research, and the research question(s) or hypotheses.

Methods

Describe the research design, participants, materials, and procedures used in your study.

Results

Present the results of your data analysis, including any statistical tests, tables, or figures. Ensure that your results are clear and concise, and that they directly address your research question.

Conclusion

Interpret your results in the context of your research question and the existing literature. Summarise the main points of your paper and reiterate its significance. This section should also emphasise the implications and contributions of your research to the field.
