

crystaltanart This quick and easy, but effective and fun white daisies is the newest tutorial out on my YT channel right now!

I couldn't make it to a 'premiere' of it because of you know, life things. But have a look and let me know what you think!

crystaltanart How To Create Beautiful White Daisies Without Messing Up A Single Stroke 🗨️

I'm about to show you a super easy way to not only paint lilies, tulips, or camellias...

But any gorgeous flower without worrying over that "Something's not right" or "Meh" feeling you get after you finish painting...

This simple "capture" hack has helped me paint in a majestic yet soothing way even with a limited palette.

Whether I want to paint flowers, sceneries, or animals,

This hack always creates a super fun and relaxing time whilst painting whenever I decide to use it.

It also single-handedly pours life into my flowers. As if I was witnessing my white daisies bloom in front of me!

I don't use this magic EVERY time I paint because it often tempts me to create another 5 paintings after the first one! (Which might make me run out of watercolor pretty fast...)

It's not an artificial supplement, It's not a premium watercolor set that costs an arm and a leg.

And It's definitely not a "spirituality" hack that costs part of your soul. 🤖

If you want to discover this "capture" hack that has been used wayy back since 1500 A.D by Da Vinci himself,

Then click on the link in bio to watch my latest youtube video where I painted these white daisies using this hack.

Or just search 'Crystal Tan Art' on YouTube!
