I'm walking to the school.
Where did you go (boat/car)?
Where is this child's bracelet?
My dog is at home.
The boat went out to sea.
I'm walking towards you.
They are walking with me.
I saw your keys on the table.
That raven is on the roof of the house.
We saw an eagle on a rock.

The dog is heading towards your home.
My paternal uncle is driving to Anchorage.
The eagle flew back to its nest.
The deer was walking along the beach.
Why are the children standing behind the boat?
We are singing later.
Did you tell a story about hunting?
I went to the store for apples.
You walked towards the ocean, right?
I'm returning from work.

Susie is washing the dishes.
Did you pick berries in Hoonah?
We are cooking for the ku.éex̲' tomorrow.
I cut the fish last night.
Do you want to buy it?
What are you working on there?
They all wrote about seals.
Where will you drive to?
I'm drumming later at school.
Where did they all go?

I will play basketball later.
We will play basketball later.
We will be tired tonight.
Did you see our new house?
They are going to be working together.
My maternal aunt caught (with a rod) a fine king salmon.
He said to me: “my younger brother lied.”
We are going to talk about our school.
They all are going to talk about Tlingit culture.
We talked about our way of life.

We will sell our boat this summer.
They all are weaving a Chlikat blanket.
They are cutting moose meat right here.
Where will they all work on it?
They are reading a Lingít book.
I was cutting the fish last night.
How many people are walking over there?
They are counting porpoises over there.
They sewed the button robe.
Where does your son live?
